Resolve establishing a special commission to study technology to monitor and protect individuals in law enforcement custody.

1           Resolved, there shall be a special commission which shall make an investigation and 2 study of technology to monitor and protect the health and safety of people in custody; during 3 arrest, transport, detention and incarceration. The commission shall study (i) technology that 4 continuously monitors vital signs and motion of individuals in custody to detect potential danger;
5 (ii) the ability of technology to detect common causes of injuries and deaths in custody, 6 including but not limited to positional asphyxia, excited delirium, suicide, drug overdoses, and 7 falls; (iii) situational uses of such technology, including use of force arrests and mental health
8 crises; (iv) during which processes such technology may be applicable, including arrest, 9 transport, booking, detention, and incarceration; (v) using technology to monitor and report on 10 in-custody health or safety incidents; (vi) safeguards to protect the privacy and rights of 11 individuals being monitored; (vii) cost assessments of the implementing the technology and of 12 the civil liability and social impacts of in-custody injuries or deaths in the Commonwealth.

13         The special commission shall be comprised of the following members: the chair of the 14 municipal police training committee, or a designee, who shall serve as chair; the commissioner 15 of the department of corrections, or a designee; the president of the Massachusetts sheriff's 16 association, or a designee; the attorney general of Massachusetts, or a designee; the executive 17 director of prisoner legal services of Massachusetts, or a designee; the executive director of 18 ACLU Massachusetts or a designee; and two members appointed by the governor, one of whom 19 shall be a medical professional with experience treating individuals in custody, and one of whom 20 shall be an expert on prisoner mental health.

21         The commission shall submit its findings and recommendations to the clerks of the senate 22 and the house of representatives, the joint committee on public safety and homeland security, the 23 executive office of public safety, and the municipal police training committee, no later than 24 January 1, 2024.
