HOUSE . . . . . No. 153

By Mr. Lewis of Winchester, a petition (accompanied by resolve, House, No. 153) of Jason M. Lewis and others for legislation to establish a special commission (including members of the General Court) to study issues relative to education. Education.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the Year Two Thousand Eleven

Resolve to fulfill the promise of education reform by ensuring adequate funding for student success.

1           Resolved, SECTION 1. Chapter 71 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 2010
2 Official Edition, is hereby amended by adding the following new section:-

3           Section 94. In order to determine, as a basis for legislative action, the resources needed
4 to achieve the commonwealth’s educational goals, a committee, to be known as the Education
5 Resource Study Committee, made up of the chairs of the joint committee on education, the 6 secretary of administration and finance, or her designee, the secretary of the executive office of 7 education, or her designee, the commissioner of elementary and secondary education, or his 8 designee, is hereby authorized to conduct a study to determine the resources necessary to achieve
9 the commonwealth’s educational goals. The committee shall contract with an independent 10 consultant to conduct an assessment to ascertain the resources and the costs of the resources
11 needed to provide all students in Massachusetts with the opportunity for a high quality education
12 to enable them to reach their potential as set forth in the Education Reform Act of 1993.

13 For purposes of its work, the committee and consultant shall have access to all necessary
14 papers, vouchers, books and records pertaining to the department of elementary and secondary 15 education and to any school district in the commonwealth. The department of elementary and 16 secondary education shall cooperate with the committee and consultant for any purpose
17 connected to its work pursuant to this act including, but not limited to, participating in interviews
18 and producing books, records and documents. School districts and their personnel shall make 19 every effort to cooperate with reasonable requests of the committee and consultant for any 20 purpose connected to its work pursuant to this act and to the extent possible shall participate in 21 interviews and producing books, records and documents. The committee and consultant may 22 request reasonable assistance from the commissioner of elementary and secondary education and 23 from the superintendent of any school district. The commissioner shall furnish the committee 24 and consultant with any relevant information in his possession which is requested by the 25 committee and consultant. School districts shall endeavor to provide relevant information in 26 their possession to committee and consultant to the extent possible consistent with the need to 27 maintain the confidentiality of information in their possession.

28 The committee shall:

29 (1) Prepare a request for proposals for the conduct of a resource study, advertise
30 nationally for such proposals, evaluate the proposals and contract with an appropriate 31 independent entity or independent consultants to conduct a professional evaluation of 32 a) the extent of educational and other resources required by school districts so that they 33 are able to implement fully each of the seven curriculum frameworks and fulfill the goals of the 34 Education Reform Act and this act, and

35           b) the resources required by the department of elementary and secondary education so 36 that it is able to fulfill its responsibilities under the provisions of the Education Reform Act. Such 37 responsibilities shall include providing technical assistance to school districts so that they can 38 improve the capacity of school districts to implement the curriculum frameworks effectively and 39 devising instructional strategies which improve learning for diverse student populations

40           (2) Include in its request for proposals the requirements that in conducting its study, the 41 consultant shall do the following:

42           (a) consider and evaluate all the resources which relate to student learning and 43 educational opportunity, including, but not limited to: class size; special education programs,
44 including programs for English language learners; pre-school programs for all 3 and 4 year-olds
45 and full-day kindergarten; additional resources needed to assure educational opportunity for low-46 income students; salaries needed to attract and retain high quality professionals; technology;
47 extra-curricular programs; remedial programs for students at risk of failing to satisfy graduation
48 requirements; books and other curriculum materials; and equipment for science lab programs.

49           (b) Reexamine the manner in which the Chapter 70 foundation budget is adjusted for 50 inflation, including, but not limited to, the following: the choice of a price index; the possibility 51 of using different price indices for different components of the foundation budget(e.g., a health 52 care index applied to the employee health insurance component); and whether the current 4.5% 53 cap should be raised or eliminated altogether. The overriding purpose of the re-examination is to 54 ensure that the inflation adjustment to the foundation budget matches changes in actual education 55 costs.

56           (c) provide the committee with a proposed work plan before beginning the study;

57 (d) interview and consult with representatives of educational professions and other 58 groups involved in issues of educational policy and finance, including, but not limited to the 59 Massachusetts Association of School Superintendents, the Massachusetts Association of School
60 Committees, the Massachusetts Teachers Association, the American Federation of 61 Teachers/Massachusetts, the Massachusetts Municipal Association, the Rennie Center for 62 Education Research and Policy, the Council for Fair School Finance, the Massachusetts Budget
63 and Policy Center, the Massachusetts Taxpayers Foundation, Massachusetts Business Alliance
64 for Education, , the Massachusetts Parent Teacher Organization, Stand for Children, academics
65 and researchers involved in educational strategies, and the general public through public hearings 66 and through such other means as the consultant shall direct;

67 (e) review successful educational programs in schools and school districts with diverse 68 socio-economic characteristics and racial make-up and assess the possibility of replicating such 69 programs in other schools and school districts;

70 (f) consider and evaluate opportunities for greater efficiencies and cost savings within 71 and among school districts, including, but not limited to consolidation of districts, consolidation
72 of purchasing and other administrative functions, and leveraging online/distance learning
73 capabilities;

74 (g) file monthly progress reports with the committee outlining the work of the previous 75 month and the work planned for the upcoming month;

76 (h) after the completion of one-third of the work and again after completion of two-thirds 77 of the work, participate in a forum with the committee to provide an opportunity for public
78 comment;

79 (i) issue a preliminary report on its work and the cost study and solicit comments, 80 criticisms and suggestions from professional educators, education administrators and experts in 81 education policy and finance concerning the report; and

82 (j) deliver a final report to the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of 83 Representatives, and the Joint Committee on Education no later than September 1, 2012.

84 Section 2. A sum of $600,000 will be appropriated for the design and completion of this 85 study.
