SECTION 4 - CORI guidelines

(a) Grantees receiving funding under the Justice Reinvestment Act will adhere to a policy of affording a rehabilitated individual with a criminal record with a fair opportunity to be employed and reintegrate successfully into the workforce, while protecting vulnerable populations and the public safety. Consistent with this policy, a criminal record will not automatically disqualify an Applicant from employment, unless explicitly mandated by law.

(b) Grantees will not conduct a CORI check or make any inquiry into an Applicant's possible criminal history, or include any such inquiry on any initial employment application form, until after an Applicant's credentials have been reviewed, it has determined that the Applicant is otherwise qualified for a position and a conditional offer of employment has been made. A funded program will not conduct a CORI check on an Applicant who is not otherwise qualified for a relevant position.

(c) Grantees will not check an Otherwise Qualified Applicant's CORI unless a CORI check is mandated by law or it determines that the position in question is of such sensitivity (for example, working with a vulnerable population) that a CORI check is warranted.

(d) Any personnel responsible for reviewing CORI be trained on reading and interpreting a CORI report. Such personnel shall be required to attend CORI training and be knowledgeable about educational materials made available by DCJIS.

(e) Grantees will conduct a CORI check only as authorized by the DCJIS, will not rely on an improperly issued CORI and will return the record to DCJIS for issuance of the appropriate report, if any, whenever it might receive a report containing matters not requested or otherwise authorized for release to the city.

(f) Grantees will consider the result of a properly issued CORI report only in those instances where the content of the record is substantially relevant to the duties and qualifications of a position in question.

(g) Grantees will follow the practices set forth below when it is inclined to deny an Applicant a position because of the results of a CORI:

(1) Ensure that the record received pertains to the individual for whom a request was made by comparing the Applicant's identifying information, such as that on a driver's license or government issued identification, or CORI request form, to the information on the CORI report;

(2) Provide the Applicant with a copy of the CORI;

(3) Notify him or her of the part or parts which appear to make him or her ineligible;

(4) Afford the Applicant with an opportunity for a private meeting to explain the accuracy and/or relevance of anything on the CORI report;

(5) Review the relevancy and accuracy of the CORI report by considering these factors:

(i) Nature, seriousness and circumstance of any past criminal conviction or pending charge;

(ii) Age of the candidate at the time of the offense;

(iii) Date of the offense;

(iv) Relevance of the offense to the duties and qualifications of the position in question;

(v) Sentence imposed and length of any period of incarceration;

(vi) Any reasonable available information concerning compliance with conditions of parole or probation, including orders of no contact with victim and witnesses;

(vii) The individual's conduct and experience in the time since the offense, including, but not limited to, education or professional certification obtained since the time of the offense;

242 (viii) Any other evidence of rehabilitation.

243 (f) If after review the recipient makes an adverse decision, it will promptly notify the 244 Applicant in writing stating the reasons thereof.

245 (g) If a grantee determines that a CORI report received does not pertain to the individual
246 for whom a request was made, it will notify the Applicant of DCJIS's regulations and process for 247 correcting an inaccurate record, and will not rely on such a record in rendering an adverse
248 decision. The grantee may contact DCJIS and request that it conduct a detailed search consistent
249 with DCJIS's policy.

250 (h) The grantee will provide a copy of its CORI standards to any Applicant or 251 person who makes a request.

252 (i) The grantee, consistent with DCJIS policy, will not disseminate or share CORI
253 information except with those authorized personnel granted access to CORI.
