In the Year Two Thousand Thirteen

An Act requiring investigation gas leak explosions by the Department of Public Utilities.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 (10) After it is found that a gas leak caused an explosion by either the gas distribution
2 company or a local or state public safety official, the Department shall open a full investigation 3 within 24 hours after the explosion and shall require the distribution gas company to retain and 4 preserve all materials related to the explosion, including, but not limited to, gas pipes, customer 5 call recordings and records, inspection reports, maps of the gas line, and leak survey records, and 6 make said materials for the Department for its investigation. The Department shall convene at 7 least one public hearing in the community where the explosion occurred. Should it be 8 determined by the Department that the distribution gas company was responsible for the 9 explosion; the Department shall direct the distribution gas company to take specific action to 10 prevent a future explosion and shall issue a civil penalty not to exceed $250,000. Nothing in this 11 clause shall prevent a gas distribution company from taking actions necessary to protect the 12 public from a gas leak or from conducting repairs and replacements of gas lines.
