

SENATE No. 1691

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the Year Two Thousand Nine

An Act to Regulate Debt Collection Activity..

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 SECTION 1. Chapter 259 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 2006 Official Edition,
2 is hereby amended by adding the following section:--

3 Section 1A. In an action in which the money, property, or services which are the subject 4 of the action were primarily for personal, family, or household purposes, the action shall not be 5 accepted by a clerk for filing and dismissed sua sponte, if it is filed, if the action involves a 6 written contract that is not attached to complaint or statement of claim. If a party bringing a 7 claim against a consumer involving a debt obtained the debt from another, the action shall not be 8 accepted by a clerk for filing and shall be dismissed sua sponte, if it is filed, if the writing by 9 which the party purchased the debt is not attached to the complaint or statement of claim. In an 10 action in which the money, property, or services which are the subject of the action were 11 primarily for personal, family, or household purposes, the plaintiff must affirmatively plead that 12 the action involved or did not involve a contract or written memorandum of an agreement by the 13 defendant. Actions involving an agreement, or an alleged agreement, in which the money, 14 property, or services which were the subject of the agreement were primarily for personal,

15 family, or household purposes, must be brought as an action on a contract and may not be 16 brought as a claim of an account stated.

17 SECTION 2. Chapter 260 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 2006 Official Edition,
18 is hereby amended by adding the following section:--

19 Section 2F. With regard to contracts in which the money, property, or services that are 20 the subject of the transaction were primarily for personal, family, or household purposes, the 21 period of limitations shall be four years. The period begins sixty days after the last payment or 22 purchase by the consumer, or loan of money to the consumer, whichever is later. The period is 23 not extended by a later payment by the consumer unless the consumer also waives the protection 24 in writing after clear and conspicuous disclosure in plain language of the substance of the right
25 and that it is being waived. The running of the period of limitations in this section extinguishes 26 the debt as well as any remedy and bars any activity directly or indirectly to collect the debt, 27 including the reporting of the debt to a credit reporting agency.

28 SECTION 3. Chapter 231 Section 6C of the General Laws, as appearing in the 2006
29 Official Edition, is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following paragraph:--

30 Provided further that where the judgment is entered against an individual in connection 31 with a contract for personal, family, or household purposes, the rate for the second and 32 subsequent years shall be a rate calculated at a weekly average one-year constant maturity 33 treasury yield, as published by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, for the 34 first week of the calendar year that the judgment is entered, provided, however, that such interest 35 shall not exceed the rate of ten percent per annum. The Attorney General shall maintain a 36 schedule of the rate described above for the distribution to all clerks of courts.

37 SECTION 4: Chapter 93 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 2006 Official Edition, 38 is hereby amended by inserting after subsection(d) in section 49 the following:-

39 (e) The creditor communicates with an alleged debtor who is sixty years of age or older 40 regarding a debt after such debtor has notified the creditor, in writing or orally, that the alleged 41 debtor refuses to pay such debt or that the alleged debtor wishes the creditor to cease further 42 communications with debtor about such debt, with the following exceptions, which must be in 43 writing:

- 44 1. To advise the alleged debtor that the creditors further efforts are being terminated;
- 45 2. To notify the alleged debtor that the creditor may invoke specified remedies 46 which are ordinarily invoked by such creditor; or
- 47 3. Where applicable, to notify the debtor that the creditor intends to invoke a 48 specified remedy.

49 A debtor's oral notice shall be valid for only forty days unless the alleged debtor provides 50 written confirmation postmarked or delivered within seven days of such notice. A debtor may 51 rescind at any time such a notice by written communication to the creditor. A creditor must 52 inform the alleged debtor of the right provided by this subsection upon first communication with 53 the alleged debtor, to be followed within thirty days by a written short and plain explanation of 54 the right provided by this subsection.

55 For purposes of this section, "creditor" means any person and his agents, an assignee of 56 the creditor, , employees, attorneys or collection agents engaged in collecting a debt owed or 57 alleged to be owed to him by a debtor.

58 (f) The creditor seeks payment on an alleged obligation on which the statute of 59 limitations for bringing suit has run.

60 SECTION 5. Chapter 218 section 22 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 2006 61 Official Edition, is hereby amended by adding the following after the first paragraph:--

62 The entry fee shall be $60 for any party that had filed five statements of claim in the court 63 during the calendar year, $90 for any party that has previously filed fifty statements of claim in 64 the court during the calendar year, $120 for any party that has previously filed one hundred 65 statements of claim in the court during the calendar year.

66 SECTION 6. Chapter 93 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 2006 Official Edition, 67 is hereby amended by adding the following sections:--

68 Section 49B

69 A debt collector who purchases or acquires a debt owed by a consumer that has been 70 delinquent for 60 days or more shall provide within 30 days of obtaining the debt a notice to any 71 consumer obligated or allegedly obligated for the debt that contains:

72 (a) A statement that the debt collector has acquired the debt and identifying where any 73 future payments are to be made.

74 (b) The name of the original creditor with whom the consumer dealt and the name of the 75 entity from which the debt collector obtained the debt.

76 (c) A copy of the last statement sent to the consumer when the account was not 77 delinquent.

78 (d) A statement of the amounts, types, and dates of any charges added to the account after 79 the last statement sent to the consumer when the account was not delinquent.

80 If the debt collector obtains a consumer report, as defined in M.G.L. ch. 93, section 50, of 81 the consumer, such notice must be provided to the most recent address indicated in the consumer 82 report or the consumer's current address provided by a more reliable source.

83 Section 49C

84 A debt collector purchasing a debt owed by a consumer that has been delinquent for 60 85 days or more shall not attempt to collect the debt unless the debt collector has obtained 86 substantially all of the records related to the consumer's obligation to pay the account. Such 87 records shall include any application of the consumer for the account, any terms or alleged terms 88 of the account, the dates and amounts of each activity regarding the account for the three years 89 prior to any delinquency (including all billing statements), and any record of communications 90 between the consumer and prior creditors and debt collectors regarding the account.

91 Section 49D

92 (a) Notice of debt; contents. Within five days after the initial communication with a 93 consumer in connection with the collection of any debt, a debt collector shall, unless the 94 following information is contained in the initial communication or the consumer has paid the 95 debt, send the consumer a written notice containing—

96 (1) the amount of the debt;

97 (2) the name of the creditor to whom the debt is owed;

98 (3) a statement that unless the consumer, within thirty days after receipt of the notice, 99 disputes the validity of the debt, or any portion thereof, the debt will be assumed to be valid by 100 the debt collector;

101 (4) a statement that if the consumer notifies the debt collector in writing within the thirty-102 day period that the debt, or any portion thereof, is disputed, the debt collector will a response to 103 the dispute or a copy of a judgment against the consumer and a copy of such response or 104 judgment will be mailed to the consumer by the debt collector; and 105 (5) a statement that, upon the consumer's written request within the thirty-day period, the 106 debt collector will provide the consumer with the name and address of the original creditor, if 107 different from the current creditor.

108 (b) Disputed debts. If the consumer notifies the debt collector in writing within the 109 thirty-day period described in subsection (a) of this section that the debt, or any portion thereof, 110 is disputed, or that the consumer requests the name and address of the original creditor, the debt 111 collector shall cease collection of the debt, or any disputed portion thereof, until the debt 112 collector conducts a reasonable investigation of the dispute of the debt or obtains a copy of a 113 judgment, or the name and address of the original creditor, and a copy of a response to the 114 dispute or judgment, or name and address of the original creditor, is mailed to the consumer by 115 the debt collector.

116 Collection activities and communications that do not otherwise violate this chapter, or 117 regulations thereunder, may continue during the 30-day period referred to in subsection (a) 118 unless the consumer has notified the debt collector in writing that the debt, or any portion of the 119 debt, is disputed or that the consumer requests the name and address of the original creditor. Any 120 collection activities and communication during the 30-day period may not overshadow or be 121 inconsistent with the disclosure of the consumer's right to dispute the debt or request the name 122 and address of the original creditor.

123 (c) Admission of liability. The failure of a consumer to dispute the validity of a debt 124 under this section may not be construed by any court or other person as an admission of liability 125 by the consumer.

126 (d) Legal pleadings. A communication in the form of a formal pleading in a civil action 127 shall not be treated as an initial communication for purposes of subsection (a).

128 (e) Notice provisions. The sending or delivery of any form or notice which does not relate 129 to the collection of a debt and is expressly required by the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, title V
130 of Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act, or any provision of Federal or State law relating to notice of data 131 security breach or privacy, or any regulation prescribed under any such provision of law, shall 132 not be treated as an initial communication in connection with debt collection for purposes of this 133 section.

134 Section 49E

135 When a debt collector accepts a payment or negotiates a payment plan with a consumer, 136 the debt collector shall send to the consumer within ten days of accepting the payment or 137 payment plan a written statement identifying the debt, the terms of the payment or payment plan, 138 and whether the payment(s) should be designated as payment in full of the debt. The statement 139 should also state that this is an important record that should be retained by the consumer.

140 Section 49F

141 In any action by debt collector against a consumer where the underlying contract 142 provides for the recovery of a collection or attorney fee, a prevailing consumer shall be entitled 143 to recover a reasonable attorney fee.

144 Section 49G

145 (a) For purposes of Sections 49B through 49F, a “debt collector” is one who in more than 146 isolated instances is a creditor, an attorney for a creditor, an assignee of a creditor, and any agent, 147 employee, or entity regularly hired by a creditor to collect a debt of a natural person present or 148 residing in Massachusetts who has incurred a debt primarily for personal, family or household 149 purposes.

150 (b) For purposes of Sections 49B through 49E, a consumer is one who has incurred a 151 debt primarily for personal, family or household purposes.

152 (c) Remedies. Any debt collector, who fails to comply with any provision of Section 49, 153 49B through 49D with, respect to any person is liable to such person in an amount equal, to the 154 sum of—

155 (1) any actual damage sustained by such person as a result of , such failure;

156 (2)(A) in the case of any action by an individual, such additional , damages as the court 157 may allow, but not exceeding $2,000; or

158 (B) in the case of a class action, (i) such amount for each, named plaintiff as could be 159 recovered under subparagraph , (A), and (ii) such amount as the court may allow for all other , 160 class members, without regard to a minimum individual , recovery, not to exceed the lesser of 161 $500,000 or 1 per centum , of the revenues of the debt collector during the year in which the 162 violation occurred; and , (3) in the case of any successful action to enforce the foregoing liability, 163 the costs of the action, together with a reasonable , attorney’s fee as determined by the court. On 164 a finding by the, court that an action under this section was brought in bad faith, and for the 165 purpose of harassment, the court may award to the defendant attorney’s fees reasonable in 166 relation to the work expended and costs.

167 (b) Factors considered by court. In determining the amount of liability in any action 168 under subsection (c), the court shall consider, among other relevant factors—

169 (1) in any individual action under subsection (c)(2)(A), the , frequency and persistence of 170 noncompliance by the debt collector, , the nature of such noncompliance, and the extent to which 171 such noncompliance was intentional; or

172 (2) in any class action under subsection (c)(2)(B) of this section, the frequency and 173 persistence of noncompliance by the debt , collector, the nature of such noncompliance, the 174 resources of the debt collector, the number of persons adversely affected, and the extent to which 175 the debt collector’s noncompliance was intentional.

176 (c) Intent. A debt collector may not be held liable in any action brought under this 177 subchapter if the debt collector shows by a preponderance of evidence that the violation was not 178 intentional and resulted from a bona fide error notwithstanding the maintenance of procedures 179 reasonably adapted to avoid any such error.
