An Act for consumer protection and regulation in psychotherapy..

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1           SECTION 1. Section 88 of chapter 13 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 2008
2   Official edition, is hereby amended by striking the entire section and inserting in place thereof
3   the following:

4           Section 88. There shall be within the division of professional licensure a board of 5   registration of allied mental health and human services professions, in this section and sections 6   eighty-nine and ninety, which shall consist of thirteen members, one of whom shall be elected as 7   chairperson, to be appointed in the manner provided by section eighty-nine. Members shall be 8   appointed for a term of three years. No member shall be appointed to more than two consecutive 9   full terms; provided, however, that a member appointed for less than a full term may serve two

10 full terms in addition to such part of a full term, and a former member shall again be eligible for 11 appointment after a lapse of one or more years.

12 Any member of the board may be removed by the governor for neglect of duty, 13 misconduct or malfeasance, or misfeasance in office after being given a written statement of the 14 charges against him and sufficient opportunity to be heard thereon. No member may be removed 15 without a public hearing with at least thirty days prior written notice of the charges and the date
16 fixed for such hearing. All board members shall be subject to chapter 268A. No board member 17 shall participate in any matter before the board in which a pecuniary interest, personal bias, or 18 other similar conflict of interest is established.

19 Members shall receive no compensation but shall be entitled to reasonable travel
20 expenses. The members of the board shall be public employees for the purposes of chapter 258
21 for all acts or omissions within the scope of their duties as board members.

22 SECTION 2. Section 89 of said chapter 13 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 23 2008 Official edition, is hereby amended by striking the entire section and inserting in place
24 thereof the following:

25 Section 89. The governor shall appoint members of the board only from among the 26 candidates who meet the following qualifications:

27 (A) Ten members shall be licensed practicing mental health and human services 28 professionals, two of whom shall be marriage and family therapists, two of whom shall be 29 rehabilitation counselors, two of whom shall be clinical mental health counselors, two of whom 30 shall be educational psychologists, two of whom shall be autonomous psychoanalytic 31 psychotherapists or autonomous psychoanalysts; and each shall have been, for at least five years immediately preceding appointment, actively engaged as a practitioner rendering professional services in that field, or in the education and training of graduate students or interns in the field, or in appropriate human developmental research, or in other areas substantially equivalent thereto, and shall have spent the majority of the professional time in such activity during the two years preceding the appointment in the commonwealth, and

(B) Three members shall be representatives of the general public who have no direct affiliation with the practice of any allied mental health or human services profession.

The appointment of any member of the board shall automatically terminate within thirty days after the date such member is no longer a resident of the commonwealth.

Each appointee shall, upon accepting appointment to the board, take and subscribe to the oath or affirmation prescribed by law, and file the same in the office of secretary of state.

SECTION 3. Section 90 of said chapter 13 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 2008 Official edition, is hereby amended by striking the entire section and inserting in place thereof the following:

Section 90. The board shall hold at least two regular meetings each year, but additional meetings may be held upon the call of the chairperson, or the secretary, or upon the written request of any two board members. A majority of the members of the board then appointed shall constitute a quorum; provided, however, that at least one of those present shall be a member who was selected from and who represents the general public.

The board shall administer and enforce the provisions of sections one hundred and sixty-three to one hundred and seventy-two, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and twelve. Said board

53 shall promulgate regulations which set forth education requirements necessary for a person to be 54 licensed under the provisions of sections one hundred sixty-five, one hundred sixty-five A, and 55 one hundred sixty-five B of said chapter one hundred and twelve; and the board may, from time 56 to time, adopt such rules and regulations as it deems necessary to carry out the performance of its 57 duties.

58         The director of the division of professional licensure shall have authority to review and 59 approve rules and regulations proposed by the board. Such regulations will be deemed approved 60 unless disapproved within fifteen days of submission to said director; provided, however, that 61 any such disapproval shall be in writing setting forth the reasons for such disapproval.

62         Said board, or its agent, shall examine and pass on the qualifications of all applicants for 63 licenses under sections one hundred and sixty-three to one hundred and seventy-two, inclusive,
64 of chapter one hundred and twelve, and shall issue a license to each successful applicant therefor, 65 attesting to their professional qualifications to be a licensed allied mental health and human 66 services professional. After a person has applied for licensure, no member of the board may 67 supervise such applicant for a fee nor shall any member vote on any applicant previously 68 supervised by such member.

69         Said board may recommend to the governor and the general court, after a public hearing 70 which shall be advertised by publication of notices to the appropriate mental health and human 71 service professional organizations and in major media outlets throughout the commonwealth,
72 modifications and amendments to sections eighty-eight, eighty-nine and this section and sections
73 one hundred and sixty-three to one hundred and seventy-two, inclusive, of chapter one hundred 74 and twelve.

Said board shall cause examinations to be held not less than twice annually and shall evaluate examinations to keep them free from cultural bias.

Said board shall annually publish a list of names and addresses of persons who are licensed under sections one hundred and sixty-three to one hundred and seventy-two inclusive, of chapter one hundred and twelve.

Fees for initial and renewal applications shall be determined annually by the secretary of administration and finance under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven.

Said board shall establish regulations for continuing educational requirements for licensees. Said regulations shall not require more than thirty contact hours per year, on average through the term of the license, of approved continuing education programs as a condition for continuing registration.

Said board shall cause public hearings to be held prior to setting specifications for any continuing educational requirements.

The board shall establish procedures to permit consumers to file written complaints against licensed individuals and investigate and take appropriate action on such complaints.

SECTION 4. Section 65A of chapter 112 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 2008 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:—

Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, (i) each board of registration under the supervision of the division of professional licensure, (ii) each board of registration under the supervision of the department of public health and (iii), in the case of violations of section 65F, the division of professional licensure may, after a consent agreement between the parties or after an opportunity for an adjudicatory proceeding held pursuant to chapter 30A, assess and collect a civil administrative penalty not to exceed $1,000 for the first violation and a civil administrative penalty not to exceed $2,500 for a second or subsequent violation upon a person who, without holding the required license, certificate, registration or authority, engages in the practice of a trade or profession for which a license, certificate, registration or authority is required.

SECTION 5. Said chapter 112 as appearing in the 2008 Official Edition is hereby amended by inserting after section 65E the following section:—

Section 65F. Persons shall not hold themselves out to the public as psychotherapists or represent that the service they are offering is psychotherapy, unless (a) they are currently licensed by the board of registration in medicine and practicing within the scope of such license and have completed training in psychiatry, or (b) they are currently licensed by the board of registration in nursing and are practicing within the scope of such license and have completed training in psychiatric nursing, or (c) they are currently licensed by the board of registration of psychologists, the board of registration of social workers, or the board of registration of allied mental health and human services professionals and they are practicing within the scope of practice of such license, or (d) they are a student, intern, or person fulfilling supervised experience for licensure in the above professions under the qualified supervision of a licensee. Any person who violates this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for the first offense and by a fine of not more than $2,500 for a second or subsequent offense.

SECTION 6. Said chapter 112 as appearing in the 2008 Official Edition is hereby amended by replacing Sections 163 and 164 with the following:

Section 163. As used in sections one hundred and sixty-three to one hundred and seventy-two, inclusive, the following words shall, unless the context clearly requires otherwise, have the following meanings:—

“Advertise”, includes, but is not limited to, distributing or causing to be distributed any card, sign or device to any person; or the causing, permitting or allowing of any sign or marking on or in any building or structure, or in any newspaper or magazine or in any directory, or on radio, television or other electronic medium, or by the use of any other means designed to secure public attention.

“Allied mental health and human services professional”, an educational psychologist, a marriage and family therapist, a mental health counselor, an autonomous psychoanalytic psychotherapist, an autonomous psychoanalyst, or a rehabilitation counselor.

“Approved Continuing Education”, continuing education such as research and training programs, college and university courses, in-service training programs, seminars and conferences designed to maintain and enhance the skills of allied mental health and human services professionals and which are recognized by the board.

“Autonomous psychoanalyst”, a person so licensed under section one hundred and sixty-five B.

“Autonomous psychoanalytic psychotherapist”, a person so licensed under section one hundred and sixty-five A.

“Board”, the Massachusetts board of registration of allied mental health and human services professions.

“Educational psychologist”, a person so licensed under section one hundred and sixty-five.

“Marriage and family therapist”, a person so licensed under section one hundred and sixty-five.

“Mental health counselor”, a person so licensed under section one hundred and sixty-five.

“Practice of educational psychology”, the rendering of professional services to individuals, groups, organizations, or the public for compensation, monetary or otherwise. Such professional services shall include, but not be limited to: applying psychological principles, methods and procedures in the delivery of services to individuals, groups, families, educational institutions and staff and community agencies for the purpose of promoting mental health and facilitating learning. Such services may be preventative, developmental or remedial and include psychological and psychoeducational assessment, therapeutic intervention, program planning and evaluation, research, teaching in the field of educational psychology, consultation and referral to other psychiatric, psychological, medical and educational resources when necessary.

“Practice of marriage and family therapy”, the rendering of professional services to individuals, family groups, couples, or organizations, either public or private for compensation, monetary or otherwise. Said professional services shall include, but not be limited to, applying principles, methods and therapeutic techniques for the purpose of resolving emotional conflicts, modifying perceptions and behavior, enhancing communications and understanding among all family members and the prevention of family and individual crisis. Individual marriage and family therapists may also engage in psychotherapy of a nonmedical nature with appropriate referrals to psychiatric resources and research and teaching in the overall field of human development and interpersonal relationships.

“Practice of mental health counseling”, the rendering of professional services to individuals, families, or groups for compensation, monetary or otherwise. These professional services include: applying the principles, methods and theories of counseling, human development, learning theory, group and family dynamics, the etiology of mental illness and dysfunctional behavior and psychotherapeutic techniques to define goals and develop treatment plans aimed toward the prevention, treatment and resolution of mental and emotional dysfunction and intra or interpersonal disorders in all persons irrespective of diagnosis. The practice of mental health counseling shall include, but not be limited to, diagnosis and treatment, counseling and psychotherapy, of a nonmedical nature of mental and emotional disorders and the psychoeducational techniques aimed at prevention of such disorders and consultations to individuals, couples, families, groups, organizations and communities. Practice of mental health counseling in independent practice with individuals diagnosed with psychosis may be undertaken by a licensed mental health counselor: (a) who is licensed under section 165 on or after March 1, 1992; or (b) who was licensed prior to March 1, 1992 and who meets the certification criteria for independent practice with individuals diagnosed with psychosis as established by the board of registration of allied mental health and human services professions.

“Practice of psychoanalysis”, the rendering of professional services to individuals, families, groups of individuals, organizations or members of the public, for compensation, monetary or otherwise. These professional services shall include, but not be limited to, applying the principles, methods, and theories of psychoanalysis to the prevention, observation,

183 identification, evaluation, interpretation, or resolution of mental, emotional, family, or social 184 dysfunction in all persons, irrespective of diagnosis. Psychoanalytic principles and methods 185 address dynamic conscious and unconscious mental processes to facilitate modifications in 186 character, behavior, and affect that lead to more constructive or satisfactory functioning through 187 the use of verbal and non-verbal, cognitive and emotional communication, including an in depth 188 exploration of the unconscious aspects of the client's relationship with the analyst, the 189 unconscious meaning of communications, and the way current problems relate to early conflicts 190 and feelings. The practice of psychoanalysis shall include, but not be limited to, the use of 191 psychotherapy and counseling to diagnose and treat dysfunctions and disorders.

192 “Practice of psychoanalytic psychotherapy”, the rendering of professional services to 193 individuals, families, groups of individuals, organizations or members of the public, for 194 compensation, monetary or otherwise. These professional services shall include, but not be 195 limited to, applying modified psychoanalytic principles and theories and psychotherapeutic
196 techniques to the prevention, observation, identification, evaluation, interpretation, or resolution 197 of mental, emotional, family, or social dysfunction in all persons, irrespective of diagnosis.
198 Psychoanalytic psychotherapy addresses conscious and unconscious mental processes to 199 facilitate modifications in behavior, work and life adaptation, and mental health through the use
200 of verbal and non-verbal communication, including an emphasis on the way current problems
201 relate to early experience. The practice of psychoanalytic psychotherapy shall include, but not be 202 limited to, the use of psychotherapy and counseling to diagnose and treat dysfunctions and 203 disorders.

204 “Practice of rehabilitation counseling”, the rendering of professional services for 205 compensation, monetary or otherwise. These professional services include the application of 206 principles, methods and techniques of the rehabilitation counseling profession such as client

207 assessment, job analysis, vocational assessment, counseling and job development for the purpose 208 of maximizing or restoring the capacities of physically or mentally handicapped individuals for 209 self-sufficiency and independent living including vocational and social functioning and creating 210 those conditions favorable to this goal. The practice of rehabilitation counseling shall include,
211 but not be limited to: assisting individuals in the coordination of appropriate services; counseling
212 with individuals, families or groups; serving an advocacy role with communities or groups 213 toward the provision or implementation of rehabilitation services; research and teaching in the 214 field of rehabilitation counselor education.

215 “Psychoanalyst”, an individual who is licensed as an autonomous psychoanalyst or is a 216 recognized mental health professional who has received a post-master’s certificate or doctoral 217 degree in psychoanalysis from a recognized psychoanalytic training institution.

218 “Psychoanalytic Psychotherapist”, an individual who is licensed as an autonomous 219 psychoanalytic psychotherapist or is a recognized mental health professional engaged in the 220 practice of psychoanalytic psychotherapy.

221 “Recognized educational institution”, any degree-granting educational institution which 222 is recognized by the board and by a nationally or regionally recognized educational or 223 professional accrediting organization; provided, however, that such organization is also approved
224 by the United States Department of Education. In its discretion, the board may recognize 225 additional educational institutions.

“Recognized psychoanalytic training institution”, any psychoanalytic training institution which grants a post-master’s certificate or doctoral degree in psychoanalysis and is accredited by an accrediting organization recognized by the board.

“Recognized mental health professional”, a licensed alcohol and drug counselor, a licensed allied mental health and human services professional, a licensed physician who has completed training in psychiatry, a licensed psychiatric nurse mental health clinical specialist, a licensed psychologist, or a licensed social worker.

“Rehabilitation counselor”, a person so licensed under section one hundred and sixty-five.

“Use a title or description of”, means to hold oneself out to the public as having a particular status by means of statements on signs, mailboxes, address plates, stationery, announcement, calling cards, web pages, or other instruments of professional identification.

Section 164. Except as otherwise provided in sections one hundred and sixty-three to one hundred and seventy-two, inclusive, no individual who is not licensed or exempted from licensure under said sections shall practice, advertise the performance of, or use a title or description of:

(1) psychoanalytic psychotherapist, psychoanalytic therapist;

(2) educational psychologist, specialist, advisor or consultant;

(3) mental health counselor, advisor or consultant;

(4) marital or marriage and family therapist, advisor or consultant;

- (5) psychoanalyst, analyst (when used in conjunction with mental health services); or
- (6) rehabilitation counselor, specialist, advisor or consultant.

Except as otherwise provided in section 65F, the following shall be exempt from this section:

- (1) recognized mental health professionals;
- (2) students in the discipline of a recognized mental health professional so long as they are following the statutes and regulations of that profession.
- (3) students, interns, or other trainees in an allied mental health and human services profession receiving qualified supervision approved by the board, and whose training status is designated by titles such as “mental health counseling student” or “marriage and family therapy intern”.

Except as otherwise provided in section 65F, nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent qualified members of other professions including Christian Science practitioners, registered nurses, physicians, attorneys, or members of the clergy from doing the work consistent with the accepted standards of their respective professions; provided, however, that no such person shall use a title stating or implying that they are an allied mental health and human services professional.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent members of peer groups or self-help groups from performing peer counseling or self-help activities which may be, wholly or in part, included as a defined professional service in section one hundred and sixty-three; provided, however, that no members of peer groups or self-help groups shall use a title stating or implying that they are an allied mental health or human services professional.

SECTION 7. Said chapter 112 as appearing in the 2008 Official Edition is hereby amended by adding Sections 165A and 165B following Sections 165, as follows:

Section 165A. The board may issue a license to an applicant as an autonomous psychoanalytic psychotherapist provided that each such applicant shall provide satisfactory evidence to the board that such applicant: (1) is of good moral character; (2) has not engaged or is not engaging in any practice or conduct which would be grounds for refusing to issue a license under section one hundred and sixty-nine; (3) has successfully completed a master's degree, or higher, from a recognized educational institution; (4) has successfully completed a program in psychoanalytic psychotherapy that includes a minimum of 1200 clock hours of training from a recognized psychoanalytic training institution chartered by the Commonwealth to offer a master's degree or higher. Such hours may also fulfill requirements for (3) of this Section. Within the 1200 clock hours, the applicant shall have completed at least 600 clock hours of academic work, in such courses as the board shall specify, and shall have completed at least 600 clock hours in an internship with such direct client contact and supervision as the board shall specify, so long as 50% of such supervision is with a psychoanalyst; (5) additionally, the applicant shall complete supervised clinical experience of not less than 1500 hours, which includes such direct client contact, supervision, and personal analysis as the board shall specify, so long as 50% of such supervision is with a psychoanalyst, and so long as the applicant completes a minimum of 150 hours of personal analysis with a psychoanalyst; and (6) the applicant shall successfully pass a written or oral examination overseen by the board to determine the applicant's qualifications for licensure pursuant to this section.

Individuals formerly practicing legally as psychoanalytic psychotherapists in other jurisdictions may be licensed in the Commonwealth without examination if, in the opinion of the board, their academic and experiential training is substantially equivalent to that required by this section and the regulations of the board.

For a period of one year following the enactment of regulations in support of this act, individuals engaged in the practice of psychoanalytic psychotherapy shall be grandfathered and exempted from the foregoing items (3) through (6) provided that they are of good moral character and have not been engaging in practice or conduct that would otherwise disqualify them from licensure.

Section 165B. The board may issue a license to an applicant as an autonomous psychoanalyst provided that each such applicant shall provide satisfactory evidence to the board that such applicant: (1) is of good moral character; (2) has not engaged or is not engaging in any practice or conduct which would be grounds for refusing to issue a license under section one hundred and sixty-nine; (3) has successfully completed a master's degree, or higher, from a recognized educational institution; (4) has successfully completed a program in psychoanalysis which includes a minimum of 2250 clock hours of training from a recognized psychoanalytic training institution chartered by the Commonwealth to offer a master's degree or higher. Such hours may also fulfill requirements for (3) of this Section. Within the 2250 clock hours, the applicant shall have completed at least 1100 clock hours of academic work in such courses as the board shall specify, shall have completed at least 600 clock hours in an internship with such direct client contact and supervision as the board shall specify, so long as 50% of such supervision is with a psychoanalyst, and shall have completed supervised psychoanalytic practice totaling not less than 550 hours, with such direct client contact and supervision as the 312 board shall specify, so long as such supervision is with a psychoanalyst; (5) additionally, the 313 applicant shall complete supervised clinical experience totaling not less than 1700 hours, which 314 includes such direct client contact, supervision, and personal analysis as the board shall specify,

315 so long as 50% of such supervision is with a psychoanalyst, and so long as the applicant 316 completes a minimum of 350 hours of personal analysis with a psychoanalyst; and (6) the 317 applicant shall successfully pass a written or oral examination overseen by the board to 318 determine the applicant's qualifications for licensure pursuant to this section.

319         Individuals formerly practicing legally as psychoanalysts in other jurisdictions may be 320 licensed in the Commonwealth without examination if, in the opinion of the board, their 321 academic and experiential training is substantially equivalent to that required by this section and 322 the regulations of the board.

323         For a period of one year following the enactment of regulations in support of this act, 324 individuals engaged in the practice of psychoanalysis shall be grandfathered and exempted from 325 the foregoing items (3) through (6) provided that they are of good moral character and have not 326 been engaging in practice or conduct that would otherwise disqualify them from licensure.
