HOUSE . . . . . No. 2293

By Representatives Ehrlich of Marblehead and Brownsberger of Belmont, a petition (accompanied by bill, House, No. 2293) of Lori A. Ehrlich and others relative to employment agreements concerning engaging in activities directly or indirectly competitive with the employer. Joint Committee on Labor and Workforce Development.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the Year Two Thousand Eleven

An Act relative to noncompetition agreements.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 SECTION 1. Chapter 149 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 2006 Official Edition
2 is hereby amended by inserting after section 24K the following section:-

3 Section 24L. (a) As used in this section, the following words shall have the following 4 meanings:

5 “Employee”: an individual who is considered an employee under General Laws, chapter 6 149, section 148B.

7 “Employee noncompetition agreement”: an agreement between an employer and 8 employee, or otherwise arising out of an actual or expected employment relationship, under 9 which the employee or expected employee agrees to any extent that he or she will not engage in 10 activities directly or indirectly competitive with his or her employer after the employment 11 relationship has been severed. Employee noncompetition agreements include forfeiture for 12 competition agreements, but do not include (i) covenants not to solicit or hire employees of the 13 employer; (ii) covenants not to solicit or transact business with customers of the employer; (iii) 14 noncompetition agreements made in connection with the sale of a business or substantially all of 15 the assets of a business, when the party restricted by the noncompetition agreement is an owner 16 of the business who received consideration for the sale; (iv) noncompetition agreements outside 17 of an employment relationship; (v) forfeiture agreements; or (iii) agreements by which an 18 employee agrees to not reapply for employment to the same employer after termination of the 19 employee.

20 “Forfeiture agreement”: an agreement that imposes adverse financial consequences on a 21 former employee as a result of the termination of an employment relationship, regardless of 22 whether the employee engages in competitive activities following cessation of the employment 23 relationship. Forfeiture agreements do not include forfeiture for competition agreements.

24 “Forfeiture for competition agreement”: an agreement that imposes adverse financial 25 consequences on a former employee as a result of the termination of an employment relationship 26 if the employee engages in competitive activities.

27 “Garden leave clause”: a type of employee noncompetition agreement by which an 28 employer agrees to pay the employee during the restricted period. To constitute a garden leave 29 clause within the meaning of this section, an employee noncompetition agreement must (a) have 30 a restricted period of no more than two years from the date of cessation of employment; (b) for 31 the full restricted period on a pro rated, per annum basis and without offset for any income the 32 employee may receive from other unrestricted activities, the greater of: (i) fifty percent of the 33 employee’s highest annualized base salary paid by the employer within the two years preceding 34 the employee's termination or (ii) $35,000 (together with an additional $700 for each full year 35 from the effective date of this section); (c) require either that the payments are to be made in a 36 lump sum within ten business days following the cessation of the employee's employment or that 37 the payments are to be made on a pro rata basis in equal bi-weekly, or more frequent, payments 38 starting immediately after the cessation of the employee's employment; and (d) not permit an 39 employer to unilaterally discontinue or otherwise fail or refuse to make the payments, even if the 40 employer voluntarily shortens the restricted period.

41 "Inevitable disclosure doctrine": a doctrine by which, in the absence of an enforceable 42 employee noncompetition agreement, a former employee may be prevented from working at a 43 competitor based on the expectation that the employment would inevitably lead to the disclosure 44 of a trade secret or confidential information of the employer.

45 "Restricted period": the period of time after employment during which an employee is 46 restricted by an employee noncompetition agreement from engaging in activities competitive 47 with his or her employer.

48 (b) To be valid and enforceable, an employee noncompetition agreement must meet 49 the minimum requirements of subsections (i) through (iii) hereof and meet or be capable of being 50 reformed to meet the minimum requirements in subsections (iv) through (viii) hereof.

51 (i) The agreement must be in writing and signed by both the employer and employee.

52 (ii) If the agreement is a condition of employment, the agreement together with an 53 express statement that the agreement is a condition of employment must, to the extent reasonably 54 feasible, be provided to the employee by the earlier of seven business days before the 55 commencement of the employee's employment or when any written offer of employment is first

56 sent to the employee, provided that if an offer of employment is first communicated orally, the 57 employee also must either (A) simultaneously be informed that an employee noncompetition
58 agreement will be a condition of employment or (B) receive the required written notification 59 prior to tendering resignation from any then-current employment.

60 (iii) If the agreement is entered into after commencement of employment, it must be 61 supported by fair and reasonable consideration in addition to the continuation of employment, 62 and notice of the agreement must be provided at least two weeks before the agreement is to be 63 effective.

64 (iv) The agreement must be necessary to protect one or more of the following 65 legitimate business interests of the employer: (A) the employer's trade secrets, as that term in 66 defined in section 30 of chapter 266, to which the employee had access while employed; (B) the 67 employer's confidential information that otherwise would not qualify as a trade secret; and (C) 68 the employer's goodwill.

69 (v) The agreement must be reasonable in duration in relation to the interests protected 70 and the duration of actual employment, and, with the exception of a garden leave clause, in no 71 event may the stated restricted period exceed one year from the date of cessation of employment.
72 A stated restricted period of no more than six months is presumptively reasonable. An 73 agreement may permit the restricted period to be tolled by a court if the employee's breach of the 74 employee noncompetition agreement was neither known to nor reasonably discoverable by the 75 employer. Such tolling period will not count for purposes of the temporal standards specified 76 herein.

77           (vi)    The agreement must be reasonable in geographic reach in relation to the interests
78 protected. A geographic reach that is limited to only the geographic area in which the employee, 79 during any time within the last two years of employment, provided services or had a material 80 presence or influence is presumptively reasonable.

81           (vii)   The agreement must be reasonable in the scope of proscribed activities in relation 82 to the interests protected. A restriction on activities that protects a legitimate business interest 83 and is limited to only the specific types of services provided by the employee at any time during 84 the last two years of employment is presumptively reasonable.

85           (viii)   The agreement must be consonant with public policy.

86           (c)    Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this section, a court may, in its 87 discretion, reform an employee noncompetition agreement so as to render it valid and 88 enforceable. If a court shortens the duration of a garden leave clause, the court may, in its 89 discretion, impose a pro rata reduction on the duration or amount of the required payments.

90           (d)    Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this section, a court may decline to 91 enforce some or all of the restrictions in an otherwise valid and enforceable employee 92 noncompetition agreement (1) in extraordinary circumstances; (2) where otherwise necessary to 93 prevent injustice or an unduly harsh result; or (3) based on any other common law or statutory 94 legal or equitable defense or doctrine, or on other equitable factors that would militate against 95 enforcement. In assessing whether to enforce some or all of the restrictions, the court shall take 96 into account the economic circumstances of, and economic impact on, the restricted party.

97           (e)    A court shall award the employee reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred in 98 defending against the enforcement of any employee noncompetition agreement (1) if the court

99 declines to enforce a material restriction or reforms a restriction in a substantial respect, unless 100 (i) the specific rejected or reformed restriction is presumptively reasonable as set forth above; (ii)
101 the employer made objectively reasonable efforts to draft the rejected or reformed restriction so 102 that it would be presumptively reasonable as set forth above; or (iii) the agreement is a garden 103 leave clause; or (2) if the court finds the employer to have acted in bad faith in connection with 104 the enforcement of the employee noncompetition agreement. The entitlement to legal fees shall 105 also apply to an employee who commences a lawsuit challenging his or her employee 106 noncompetition agreement, provided that at least two business days prior to the filing of such 107 lawsuit, the employee provided the former employer with specific measures that the employee 108 would take to protect the employer's legitimate business interests, which measures are 109 substantially adopted by a court as part of a hearing on preliminary injunctive relief. The 110 entitlement to legal fees shall apply regardless of whether the employee pays the legal fees
111 himself or herself or if the legal fees are paid by another person or entity. A court may award 112 attorneys' fees and costs at any time during the proceedings, including as part of a decision in 113 connection with a preliminary injunction motion. Any such award of fees and costs shall be 114 immediately due and payable to the employee. A court may require the employer, at any point, 115 to post a bond or multiple bonds to cover any anticipated fees and costs.

116 (f) A court may award the former employer some or all of its reasonable attorneys'
117 fees and costs incurred in connection with the enforcement of the employee noncompetition 118 agreement permitted by contract or statute only if (1) the employee noncompetition agreement 119 was presumptively reasonable in duration, geographic reach, and scope of proscribed activities; 120 (2) the employee noncompetition agreement was enforced by the court without substantial 121 modification; and (3) the court finds that the employee engaged in bad faith conduct.

122 (g) The substantive, procedural, and remedial rights provided to the employee in this 123 section are not subject to advance waiver.

124 (h) Except as expressly provided by this section, a person defending against or 125 otherwise opposing the enforcement of an employee noncompetition agreement, including by 126 way of challenging the waiver of a substantive, procedural, or remedial right provided in this 127 section, shall not be subject to any contractual penalty, requirement to indemnify, tender back, or 128 any other similar disadvantage imposed as a consequence of such defense or opposition, and 129 shall continue to be entitled to the rest of the benefits flowing from the contract. Any contractual 130 provision to the contrary is void.

131 (i) No choice of law provision that would have the effect of avoiding the 132 requirements of this section will be enforceable if the employee is, and has been for at least thirty 133 days, a resident of or employed in Massachusetts at the time of his or her termination of 134 employment. This provision may not be avoided by an involuntary transfer of the employee out 135 of Massachusetts.

136 (j) Forfeiture agreements otherwise permitted by law are enforceable only if and to 137 the extent that: (1) they comply with subsections (b)(i) through (b)(iii) and (2) the forfeiture is 138 directly and reasonably related to the harm caused to the employer by the employee's departure, 139 provided that such harm threatens the continued viability of the employer. Subparagraph (2) of 140 this paragraph j does not apply to incentive equity compensation plans or agreements. Any harm 141 that may result from increased competition or the replacement of the employee is not considered 142 harm for purposes of this subsection.

143           (k)     This section may expand, but shall not narrow, the prohibitions imposed by: (1)
144 sections 12X, 74D, 129B, or 135C of chapter 112; (2) section 186 of chapter 149; or (3)
145 applicable industry or other regulation or rules.

146           (l)     Nothing in this section shall expand or restrict the right of any person to protect 147 trade secrets or other confidential information by injunction or any other lawful means under 148 other applicable laws or agreements. Notwithstanding the forgoing, the inevitable disclosure 149 doctrine is rejected and shall not be utilized, although an employee who has disclosed, threatens 150 to disclose, or is likely to intentionally disclose trade secrets or other confidential information 151 belonging to his or her prior employer may be enjoined in any respect that a court of competent 152 jurisdiction deems appropriate.

153           (m)     This section shall not apply to or alter existing law concerning: (1) any restrictive 154 covenant other than employee noncompetition agreements and forfeiture agreements; or (2) the 155 payment of wages.

156           SECTION 2. This act may be referred to as the Noncompetition Agreement Act and shall 157 apply to employee noncompetition agreements entered into on or after January 1, 2012.
