An Act relative to hazardous materials response.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1                   SECTION 1. Subsection (a) of section 5 of Chapter 21K as appearing in the 2   2006 Official Edition, is hereby amended by adding after the word “release” in each instance it
3   appears, the following words:- “or threat of release”

4                   SECTION 2. Subsection (f) of Section 5 of Chapter 21K as so appearing, is 5   further amended by striking said section in its entirety and inserting in its place, the following
6   section:-

7                   (f) Any person who owns or rents and occupies a family residence that is an 8   emergency response site at which the department has incurred emergency mitigation responses 9   costs for the release or threat of release or oil or hazardous materials, shall not be liable to the 10   department for those costs if he can establish by a preponderance of the evidence that: (1) he is

11 not a person described in clauses (3) or (4) of subsection (a); (2) the site was being used 12 exclusively by him as a family residence at the time of the release or threat of release; and (3) the 13 owner or renter of the family residence did not unlawfully possess, store or use such oil or 14 hazardous materials in violation of law; and (4) said owner or occupants conduct was not grossly 15 negligent in causing the release or threat of release of oil or hazardous materials and; (5) said 16 owner or occupant immediately notified the local fire department of the release or threat of 17 release of oil or hazardous materials as soon as he had knowledge of it.
