The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the Year Two Thousand Eleven

An Act establishing a deaf children's bill of rights..

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 SECTION 1. Chapter 6 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section
2 198 the following section:—

3 Section 198A. The commission shall certify the sign language or oral/aural
4 communication proficiency of professionals and para-professionals who are providing direct or 5 related services pursuant to an individualized education plan to deaf and hard of hearing pupils in 6 the school. For the purposes of this section, such direct and indirect service providers shall 7 include teachers of the deaf, speech therapists, counselors, interpreters, teaching associates and 8 others as appropriate.

9 The department of education shall acknowledge the commission certification awards or 10 acceptance by the commission of other certifying entities as meeting communication proficiency 11 standards within its certification process for said educational personnel.

12 No person shall be employed by a school district in any of the positions enumerated
13 herein who has not been certified, but the department may issue a temporary certification
14 effective for up to three years-to an applicant seeking certification under the provisions of this 15 section, provided that the applicant is pursuing an educational program to attain competence in 16 communication.

17 SECTION 2. Section 1B of chapter 69 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 2008
18 Official Edition, is hereby amended by inserting after the 22nd paragraph the following 19 paragraph:-

20 The board shall provide information to schools, through referral by the commission for 21 the deaf and hard of hearing children's services specialists or other appropriate persons 22 concerning educational, medical, cultural and linguistic issues of deafness and hearing loss to 23 meet the individual educational needs of deaf and hard of hearing children.

24 SECTION 3. Section 38G of chapter 71 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby 25 amended by inserting after the 32nd paragraph the following two paragraphs:-

26 Competence in sign language or oral/aural communication shall be a requirement for 27 initial certification as a teacher of students who are deaf or hard of hearing. Such competence
28 shall be verified through a communication proficiency assessment certification process
29 determined by the commission for the deaf and hard of hearing.

Competence in interpreting shall be a requirement for initial certification by the department for educational interpreters. Such competence shall be determined by the commission for the deaf and hard of hearing.

SECTION 4. Chapter 71B of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 3A the following section:—

Section 3B. As used in this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

“American sign language”, the visual/gestural language used by deaf people in the United States and Canada, with semantic, syntactic, morphological, and phonological rules which are distinct from English;
