An Act protecting the rights of private property owners.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 SECTION 1. Section 1 of Chapter 30A of the General Laws, as most recently amended 2 by chapter 240 of the acts of 2010, is hereby amended in, by inserting at the end thereof the 3 following definitions:—

4 “(7) “Policies that have constitution implications” means current or proposed regulations 5 as defined above, law, agency policy statement, directive, or other restriction that, if 6 implemented or enacted could affect a taking of private property without due process of law, 7 such as policies, regulations, orders or agreements that propose or condition requirements or 8 limitations on private property use, or that require dedications or exactions from owners of 9 private property. This term does not include actions in which the power of eminent domain is 10 formally exercised, or actions of law enforcement involving seizure of property for forfeiture or 11 as evidence in criminal proceedings.

12 (8) “Private property” means all real property protected by amendments V and XIV of the 13 constitution of the United States, or article X of the constitution of the Commonwealth of 14 Massachusetts.

15 (9) “Taking” means an uncompensated damaging or deprivation of property in violation 16 of the United States constitution or the constitution of the commonwealth.” .

17 SECTION 2. Said chapter 30A is hereby amended by inserting after Section 1D the 18 following new section:—

19 “Section 1E. The attorney general shall develop a checklist and guidelines by December 20 31, 2011, to assist agencies in the identification and evaluation of policies that have 21 constitutional implications, including policies that may result in a taking. The attorney general 22 shall review and update the checklist and guidelines at least on an annual basis to maintain 23 consistency with amendments to the laws.” .

24 SECTION 3. Section 5 of said chapter 30A is hereby amended in by inserting after the 25 second paragraph, the following paragraphs:—

26 “Any agency proposing or implementing policies that have constitutional implications 27 shall designate an official or officials in the agency to be responsible for ensuring compliance 28 with the provisions of this chapter. Each agency policy that has constitutional implications shall 29 be submitted to the designated official or officials for review. Using the checklist and guidelines
30 prepared pursuant to Section 1D, the designated official or officials shall prepare a constitutional
31 impact assessment which includes analysis of at least the following elements: (A) A description 32 of how the policy affects private property including the likelihood that the policy could result in 33 a taking of private property without due process of law; (B) Alternatives to the policy that would 34 fulfill the agency’s legal obligations but that would reduce the impact on the private property
35 owner and the risk of a taking; and (C) An estimate of the financial cost to the commonwealth 36 for compensation, and a source of funding.

37 Prior to the implementation of any policies that have constitutional implications a copy of 38 the constitutional impact assessment shall be provided for review by the Secretary of 39 Administration and Finance and by the Committees on Ways and Means of the Senate and 40 House of Representatives.

46 having constitutional implications results in an unconstitutional taking shall be awarded 47 reasonable costs and attorney’s fees incurred in establishing their claim. The remedies provided 48 in this chapter shall be in addition to any other remedies provided by law. The effect of policies 49 that have constitutional implications on the fair market value of affected property shall be 50 reflected in the assessed valuation of that real property for taxes, levies and similar purposes.” .
