67 owners thereof. Such property shall be stored with the storage facility identified in the notice
68 provided to the defendant pursuant to section 3, except that the officer shall store the property

96 damages which could not have been avoided by the exercise of such care. No person shall be 97 required to release a storage facility from liability as a condition of release of any stored 98 property.

116 entitled to purchase individual items at any auction held to enforce the storage facility's lien 117 created under this section and an identification of the publication in which any such auction will 118 be advertised pursuant to subsection (f) of section 7-210 of said chapter 106. A duplicate copy of 119 the warehouse receipt shall be kept on file at the place of storage and the original shall be served 120 by receipted mail or hand delivery to the defendant at his last and best known address. The 121 storage facility shall keep separate the goods covered by each receipt so as to permit at all times 122 identification and delivery of those goods. A storage facility who fails to comply with the 123 requirements of this subsection shall be liable for damages caused by the omission to a person 124 injured thereby.

125 (e) Any storage facility who accepts personal property pursuant to this section shall have 126 a lien thereon for charges for storage, insofar as such charges are imposed in accordance with 127 this section. The lien shall not be enforced by sale or disposal of the property until it has been 128 kept in storage for at least 6 months. Thereafter, the storage facility may enforce the lien in the 129 manner provided for in subsection (2) of section 7-210 of chapter 106, except as otherwise 130 provided in this section. The defendant shall be entitled to postpone the sale or disposal of his 131 property for 3 months upon payment of one half of all storage fees incurred plus costs reasonably

132 incurred in preparation for their sale pursuant to law. The storage facility may satisfy its lien 133 from the proceeds of any sale or disposition under this section but must hold the balance for 134 delivery on the demand of any person to whom it would have been bound to deliver the goods. A 135 storage facility's failure to comply with any of the requirements of this section shall result in the 136 forfeiture of the lien.

137 (f) The defendant may access his stored property once, without charge or payment of 138 storage fees, either to inspect the property or to remove items having primarily personal or 139 sentimental value, or both. Items having primarily personal or sentimental value, shall include 140 but not be limited to photographs, passports, documents, funeral urns, and the like. All personal 141 property stored under this section may be reclaimed at any time upon payment of all storage fees 142 lawfully owed by the defendant. If the property is sold at auction, the defendant shall be entitled 143 to purchase the property in bloc or in parcels, regardless of the terms of the public sale. The 144 failure of any third party to pay monies owed by him to the storage facility shall not affect the 145 rights of the property owner to reclaim property under this subsection.

146 (g) A storage facility who violates this section shall pay a civil penalty of not more than 147 $5,000, in an amount to be determined by the commissioner of public safety after notice and an 148 opportunity for an adjudicatory hearing under chapter 30A. The commissioner or his or her 149 designee may at any time conduct an inspection of a storage facility storing goods under this 150 section for the purpose of assessing compliance with applicable health and safety codes and the 151 requirements of this section. The commissioner may reject the rates filed by a storage facility for 152 storage pursuant to this section if the commissioner determines that such rates are not 153 commercially reasonable or otherwise violate this section. The failure of the commissioner to 154 reject a storage facility's rates shall not create a presumption that such rates are commercially 155 reasonable for purposes of liability under chapter 93A or this section.

156 (h) Notwithstanding any civil penalty imposed pursuant to subsection (g), the defendant
157 may petition the court in which the summary process action was heard for damages or injunctive
158 relief in connection with any violation of this section. A violation of this section shall also be a 159 violation of section 2 of chapter 93A.
