The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the Year Two Thousand Thirteen

An Act defining the responsibilities of the labor relations commission in work stoppages.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 Section 1. Chapter 150E, Section 9A of the Massachusetts General Laws, as appearing in 2 the 2010 Official Edition, is amended by deleting paragraph (b) and substituting a new paragraph 3 (b) as follows:-

4 (b) whenever a strike occurs or is about to occur, the employer shall petition the 5 commission to make an investigation to determine whether any provision of Section (a) has been 6 or is about to be violated. If the Commission so determines, it shall instruct the employer to 7 institute appropriate proceedings in the Superior Court in the county wherein such violation has 8 occurred or is about to occur. Furthermore, the Court may in its discretion appoint a master to 9 meet with the parties and to recommend possible solutions for the resolution of the controversy.
10 Further the Commission shall conduct an expedited hearing and subpoena witnesses to 11 investigate the cause of the alleged violation of Section (a)1. If the Commission finds that the 12 violation has been caused by an unfair labor practice of the employer then the employees shall be 13 absolved of any civil fines or penalties levied by the Court and the Commission may order round 14 the clock bargaining and penalize by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars for parties who 15 refuse to obey the order of the Commission.
