1 SECTION 1. Purpose. The purpose of this Act is to increase public access to public and 2 quasi-public land by acquiring abandoned property, specifically public utility land, and private 3 property willfully donated through conservation easements and restrictions. To accomplish this 4 purpose, this Act establishes a municipal taxing mechanism granting a city or town the power to 5 levy a real estate tax on public utility company that has abandoned a public utility site prompting 6 said company to open the land to the public through the granting of a public right of way, 7 increases the powers of the Department of Conservation stewardship council, amends the 8 requirements for obtaining conservation easements, and creates a conservation tax credit.

9 SECTION 2. The General Laws are hereby amended by inserting after section 94 of 10 chapter 59 the following section: SECTION 95. MUNICIPAL TAXING MECHANISM.

11 Section 95. (a) All public utilities, including but not limited to power, transportation, 12 water and sewer public utility companies, which are considered abandoned as defined by this 13 section shall be subject to a municipal real estate tax until such a time that the utility company 14 grants an easement or right of way to the public for general access, including and not limited to 15 recreational use.

16 (b) A public utility company shall be defined as “abandoned” if the parcel of land has 17 been vacated and no longer benefits the public as an operational public utility site for a period of 18 at least ten years.

19 (c) The rate of taxation shall be determined by the board of assessors of each city or town 20 in which such land is situated.

25 power, transportation, water and sewer utilities, directly from a land or easement owner to 26 further the purposes established in Section 1 of this chapter.

32 Consideration for granting a conservation restriction shall be most favorably weighed for 33 restrictions which grant increased public access for the benefit of the public interest.

34 SECTION 6. Said chapter 63 is hereby amended by inserting after section 38CC the 35 following section:-

36 Section 38DD. The Department of Conservation and Recreation shall develop a 37 nonregulatory program modifying chapters 58 through 65C of the General Laws that uses 38 conservation tax credits as a prominent tool to accomplish conservation purposes, particularly for

47 To be eligible for this credit, the interest in real property must be donated in perpetuity
48 for one of the qualifying uses listed in this section and accepted in perpetuity for the qualifying 49 use for which the property is donated. The person to whom the property is donated must be the 50 Commonwealth, a local government, or a body that is both organized to receive and administer 51 lands for conservation purposes and qualified to receive charitable contributions.
