An Act relative to nonviolent discipline.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 Chapter 111 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 2010 Edition, is hereby amended
2 by adding the following section:-

3 Section 223. The department of public health shall collaborate with the Massachusetts
4 Children's Trust Fund, the department of education, the department of early education and care 5 and the department of children and families to develop and implement a comprehensive and 6 coordinated statewide public awareness campaign to expand the knowledge of parents, 7 caregivers and the general public on the advantages associated with the use of positive parenting
8 techniques. The department of public health may collaborate with public and private colleges and 9 universities and nonprofit organizations to obtain grants and private funds to implement the 10 provisions of this section. For the purposes of this section, positive parenting shall mean a non 11 violent, solution focused approach that includes: clear communication of expectation, rules and 12 limits; building a mutually respectful relationship with the child; teaching the child life long 13 skills; and developing long term solutions that develop the child's own self-discipline.
