7 in use of lands or easements protected under Article 97, including, but not limited to, an analysis
8 of the most reasonable alternative that does not require disposition or change in use under Article 9 97. An alternatives analysis must be performed by the proponent of the disposition to the 10 satisfaction of the executive office of energy and environmental affairs and its agencies. The 11 alternatives analysis may include analysis of cost, impact on current use, environmental impact 12 and non-financial advantages and disadvantages as a result of the proposed disposition or change 13 in use. The scope of alternatives shall extend to any sites that were available at the time the 14 proponent of the Article 97 disposition first notified the controlling agency of the Article 97 land.

15 “Appraisal”, a written statement independently and impartially prepared by a state 16 certified or state licensed appraiser setting forth an opinion as to the fair market value of an 17 adequately described property as of a specific date, supported by the presentation and analysis of 18 relevant market information.

19 “Article 97”, Article XLIX, as appearing in Article XCVII, of the Amendments to the 20 Constitution.

21 “Article 97 lands or easements”, land or easements taken or acquired for natural resource 22 protection purposes.

23 “Change in use” or “used for other purposes”, a conversion of Article 97 land or

25 “De minimus conversion”, a disposition of less than 5000 square feet of Article 97 land 26 or easements to a political subdivision of the commonwealth; a disposition of Article 97 land or 27 easements for natural resource protection purposes; a change in use of less than 2500 square feet
28 of Article 97 land or easements to another public purpose; or a disposition or change in use of 29 Article 97 land or easements which the owner has determined have insignificant resource value, 30 are not useful to the owner’s operations, and do not benefit other Article 97 land or easements.

31 “Disposition”, “dispose” or “disposed”, the transfer of physical or legal custody or 32 control of lands or easements, or a portion thereof, by conveying, releasing or relinquishing, 35 consistent or inconsistent purposes.

36 “Fair market value”, the price, expressed in terms of cash equivalents, at which property 37 would change hands between a hypothetical willing and able buyer and a hypothetical willing 38 and able seller, acting at arm’s length in an open and unrestricted market, when neither is under 40 assuming the property would or could be put to its highest and best economic use.

41 “Lands or easements”, lands; easements; conservation restrictions, agricultural 42 preservation restrictions and watershed preservation restrictions, as defined in section 31 of 43 chapter 184 as amended; and other restrictions or conditions contained in a deed, grant or other

“Replacement land”, land or easements granted or to be granted to the owner or its designee that are of equal or greater fair market value as the Article 97 land or easements to be disposed or used for other purposes, or that have equal or greater value than the Article 97 land or easements as if in the proposed use, whichever is greater; are of equal or greater size, and have equal or greater resource value; provided, however, that Article 97 land or easements shall not qualify as replacement land.

“Secretary”, the secretary of the executive office of energy and environmental affairs.

“Taken or acquired”, obtained by the commonwealth or its political subdivisions or any instrumentality thereof by gift, purchase, devise, grant, exchange, lease, taking by eminent domain or otherwise, or obtained with the use of public funds including land bank funds, or dedicated, or used for a period of five or more years.

contiguous area of Article 97 lands or easements any part of which have been approved by statute for disposition or change in use within the five years prior to filing of legislation proposing disposition or change in use.
