The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the One Hundred and Eighty-Ninth General Court (2015-2016)

An Act relative to child custody.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 SECTION 1. Section 31 of chapter 208 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 2010
2 Official Edition, is hereby amended by inserting, in line 2, after the word “otherwise” the 3 following 3 definitions:-

4 “Deployment” the temporary transfer of a member of the Armed forces in active-duty 5 status in support of combat or some other military operation.

6 “Mobilization” the transfer of a member of the National Guard or Military Reserve to 7 extended active-duty status, but does not include National Guard or Military Reserve annual 8 training.

9 “Temporary duty” the transfer of a service member from one military base to a different 10 location, usually another base, for a limited period of time to accomplish training or to assist in 11 the performance of a noncombat mission.

12 SECTION 2. Said section 31 of said chapter 208 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 13 2010 Official Edition, is hereby further amended by inserting the following paragraphs:-

14 A party’s absence, relocation, or failure to comply with custody and visitation orders 15 shall not be considered in determining the modification of a custody or visitation order if the 16 reason for the absence, relocation, or failure to comply is the party’s activation to military duty 17 or temporary duty, mobilization in support of combat or other military operation, or military 18 deployment out of state.

19 If a party with sole or joint physical custody or visitation receives temporary duty, 20 deployment, or mobilization orders from the military that require the party to move a substantial 21 distance from his or her residence or otherwise has a material effect on the ability of the party to 22 exercise custody or visitation rights, the court may do either of the following:

23 1) Issue a temporary custody or visitation order for the period extending from the 24 date of the party’s departure to the date of his or her return. This temporary custody or visitation 25 order shall terminate upon the return of the party, at which time the prior custody or visitation 26 order shall return to effect.

27 2) Issue an order delegating all or part of the party’s visitation rights to a family 28 member or step-parent with whom the child has a close relationship, for the purpose of ensuring 29 that the child’s contact with the party is frequent and continued while the party is deployed,

30 mobilized, or on temporary duty, if the court finds that delegating visitation rights is in the best 31 interest of the child.

32 If a party's deployment, mobilization, or temporary duty will have a material effect on his 33 or her ability, or anticipated ability to appear in person at a regularly scheduled hearing, the court 34 shall do either of the following:

35 1) Upon motion of the party, hold an expedited hearing to determine custody and 36 visitation issues prior to the departure of the party.

37 2) Upon motion of the party, allow the party to present testimony and evidence by 38 electronic means, including, but not limited to, telephone, video conferencing, or the internet.
