The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the One Hundred and Ninetieth General Court
(2017-2018)

An Act for reimbursement for costs of the 'Learning Contract'.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 SECTION 1. The board of trustees of the University of Massachusetts, in conjunction 2 with the University of Massachusetts Medical School, shall develop and implement provisions
3 for payback in learning contracts entered into by students admitted for the academic year
4 commencing in two thousand and fifteen and for every year thereafter, which shall require 5 payback service, so-called, of at least four years within the commonwealth in areas of primary 6 care, public or community service, or underserved areas, as determined by the commissioner of 7 the department of public health and the learning contract committee, in coordination with the 8 area health education center and state and regional health planning agencies. The 9 commonwealth, not the medical school, shall bear the cost of these learning contracts. In the case
10 of any student who has entered into a learning contract and who does not perform payback

11 service, the difference between the tuition actually paid and the amount of the tuition which 12 would have been otherwise charged shall be required to be repaid to the medical school together
13 with eight percent interest per annum and the medical school shall remit the repayment proceeds 14 to the commonwealth; provided, however, that no payback service or tuition loan repayment
15 shall be required prior to the termination of any internship and residency requirements; provided, 16 further, that interest shall begin to accrue upon completion of any internship requirements. The 17 chancellor shall provide, on an annual basis, a report outlining the number of students 18 participating in said learning contracts, the area of medicine within which payback shall be 19 performed, the effects of payback in the underserved areas of the commonwealth, the number of 20 students utilizing the repayment option, and the aggregate tuition which would have been 21 received by the medical school had students not participated in said learning contracts. Said 22 report shall be submitted annually to the house and senate committees on ways and means by 23 September first.
