203 is hereby amended by inserting at the end thereof the following sentences:- Said fees shall be 204 paid by the court of jurisdiction whether the defendant is released by the judicial officer or 205 detained. After a conviction, plea of guilty or nolo contendere or when the case is continued 206 without a finding on the charged offense, the court may order a defendant to pay restitution in an 207 amount equal to the fees paid by the court pursuant to this paragraph.

208 SECTION 36. Said section 58 of said chapter 276, as so appearing, is hereby amended, 209 by striking out the sixth paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraphs:-

210 A person aforesaid charged with an offense and not released on his personal recognizance 211 without surety by a clerk or assistant clerk of the district court, or a bail commissioner shall 212 forthwith be brought before the next session of the district court for a review of the order to 213 recognize in accordance with the standards set forth in the first paragraph of this section. The 214 court shall provide as an explicit condition of release for any person admitted to bail pursuant to 215 this section that should said person be charged with a crime during the period of his release, his 216 bail may be revoked in accordance with section 58B and the court shall enter in writing on the 217 court docket that the person was so informed and the docket shall constitute prima facie evidence 218 that the person was so informed.

219 A person aggrieved by the denial of a district court justice to admit him to bail on his 220 personal recognizance without surety or financial condition may petition the superior court for a 221 review of the order of the recognizance and the justice of the district court shall thereupon 222 immediately notify such person of his right to file a petition for review in the superior court.

223 When a petition for review is filed in the district court or with the detaining authority subsequent 224 to petitioner's district court appearance, the clerk of the district court or the detaining authority, 225 as the case may be, shall immediately notify by telephone, the clerk and probation officer of the 226 district court, the district attorney for the district in which the district court is located, the 227 prosecuting officer, the petitioner's counsel, if any, and the clerk of courts of the county to which 228 the petition is to be transmitted. The clerk of the district court, upon the filing of a petition for 229 review, either in the district court or with the detaining authority, shall forthwith transmit the 230 petition for review, a copy of the complaint and of the record of the court, including the 231 appearance of the attorney, if any is entered, and a summary of the court's reasons for denying 232 the release of the defendant on his personal recognizance without surety to the superior court for 233 the county in which the district court is located, if a justice thereof is then sitting, or to the 234 superior court of the nearest county in which a justice is then sitting; the probation officer of the 235 district court shall transmit forthwith to the probation officer of the superior court, copies of all

236 records of the probation office of said district court pertaining to the petitioner, including the 237 petitioner's record of prior convictions, if any, as currently verified by inquiry of the 238 commissioner of probation. The district court or the detaining authority, as the case may be, shall

239 cause any petitioner in its custody to be brought before the said superior court on the same day

240 the petition shall have been filed, unless the district court or the detaining authority shall

241 determine that such appearance and hearing on the petition cannot practically take place before

242 the adjournment of the sitting of said superior court for that day and in which event, the 243 petitioner shall be caused to be brought before said court for such hearing during the morning of 244 the next business day of the sitting of said superior court. The district court is authorized to order

245 any officer authorized to execute criminal process to transfer the petitioner and any papers herein 246 above described from the district court or the detaining authority to the superior court, and to 247 coordinate the transfer of the petitioner and the papers by such officer. The petition for review 248 shall constitute authority in the person or officer having custody of the petitioner to transport the 249 petitioner to said superior court without the issuance of any writ or other legal process, provided, 250 however, that any district or superior court is authorized to issue a writ of habeas corpus for the 251 appearance forthwith of the petitioner before the superior court.

252 SECTION 37. The eighth paragraph of said section 58 of said chapter 276, as so 283 approved surety and the nature and extent of encumbrances against the surety’s property; such 284 surety shall have a net worth which shall have sufficient unencumbered value to pay the amount 285 of the bail bond”, in lines 75 through 82, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following 286 words:- a secured or unsecured bond, provided, that the judicial officer shall only impose a

287 financial condition under this clause if said judicial officer finds that no other condition or 288 combination of conditions will reasonably assure the appearance of the person as required.

289 SECTION 43. Said subparagraph (B) of said clause (2) of said section 58A of said 290 chapter 276, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out subclause (xiv), in lines 85 291 through 91, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following subclauses:-

292 (xiv) participate in a diversion program under chapter 276A, an alternative adjudication 293 program, or in a drug, mental health, veteran or other treatment court program; and 294 (xv) satisfy any other condition that is reasonably necessary to assure the appearance of 295 the person as required and to assure the safety of any other person and the community.

296 SECTION 44. Said clause (2) of said section 58A of said chapter 276, as so appearing, is 297 hereby amended, in lines 90 and 91, by striking out the last sentence.

298 SECTION 45. Clause (5) of said section 58A of said chapter 276, as so appearing, is 299 hereby amended by inserting after the word “shall”, in line 154, the following words:- in addition 300 to consulting the results of the risk assessment tool,.

301 SECTION 46. The second paragraph of section 58B of said chapter 276, as so appearing, 302 is hereby amended by striking out the figure “ninety”, in line 39, and inserting in place thereof 303 the following figure:- 60.

304 SECTION 47. Said chapter 276, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out 305 section 59 and inserting in place thereof the following sections:-

306 Section 59. There shall be within the office of probation a pretrial services division, 307 hereinafter referred to as pretrial services. Pretrial services shall collect and present necessary

308 information to compile and present risk assessments scores, and consistent with court policy, 309 provide the court with evidence-based release recommendations required by the judicial officer 310 in making release decisions, including the defendant's eligibility for diversion, treatment or other 311 alternative adjudication programs. Pretrial services shall be headed by a director of pretrial 312 services. The director shall be a person of ability and experience in the pretrial process, chosen 313 and appointed by the commissioner for the office of probation.

314 Section 59A. Pretrial services shall perform the following duties for the trial courts:

315 (a) create or choose a risk assessment tool, provided, that the tool shall be tested and 316 validated in the commonwealth to identify and eliminate unintended economic, race or gender 317 bias included in the tool;

318 (b) establish a procedure for the screening of persons who are to be, or have been,
319 presented in court for first appearance to assist the trial court in determining the appropriate 320 terms and conditions of pretrial release, provided, that procedure shall use a uniform risk 321 assessment tool;

322 (c) record information received from the arrested person as a result of any division 323 interview on a uniform risk assessment tool;

324 (d) verify and supplement to the extent possible the information required by the risk 325 assessment tool before submitting its report, provided, that minimum verification shall include 326 the arrestee's prior criminal record, residency, and employment circumstances;

327 (e) submit written reports of any interviews to the presiding judicial officer, all parties 328 and counsel of record, based on the results of the risk assessment tool, along with such findings

329 and recommendations, if any, as may be necessary to assess the appropriate conditions of release 330 which shall be imposed that reasonably assure the presence of the arrestee in court and the safety 331 of the public or aid the orderly administration of justice before trial;

332 (f) cooperate with the court and all other criminal justice agencies in the development of 333 programs to minimize unnecessary pretrial detention and protect the public against breaches of 334 pretrial release conditions;

335 (g) monitor the local operations of the pretrial release system and maintain accurate and 336 comprehensive records of program activities;

337 (h) provide notification to supervised persons of court appearance obligations and, as 338 needed, require periodic reporting by letter, telephone or personal appearance to verify 339 compliance with conditions of release;

340 (i) assist persons released prior to trial in securing any necessary employment, medical, 341 drug, mental or other health treatment, legal or other needed social services that would increase 342 the chances of successful compliance with conditions of pretrial release; and 343 (j) regularly monitor the arrest records of local law enforcement agencies to determine 344 whether any supervised person has been formally charged with the commission of a new offense 345 in violation of the uniform release order. In such event, pretrial services shall prepare a formal 346 report of that fact and present the same to the court. A copy of the report shall be provided to the 347 prosecuting officer who may aid pretrial services in presenting such violation.

348 No person shall be interviewed by pretrial services unless he or she has first been 349 apprised of the identity and purpose of the interview, the scope of the interview, the right to 350 counsel, and the right to refuse cooperation. Inquiry of the defendant shall carefully exclude 351 questions concerning the details of the current charge. Statements made by the defendant during 352 the interview or evidence derived therefrom, are admissible in evidence only when the court is 353 considering the imposition of pretrial conditions to bail or recognizance, or when considering the 354 modification of a prior release order and shall not be admissible in the course of any other 355 proceeding.

356 A representative of pretrial services shall, where feasible, be present or otherwise 357 available to the trial court at the first appearance or such later hearings at which the division 358 report is to be considered by the trial court. At such hearings, the factual findings, conclusions 359 and recommendations in the written report may be challenged by the defendant, his or her 360 counsel, or the prosecuting attorney, by the presentation of any relevant evidence; and if so 361 ordered by the trial court, pretrial services shall prepare and submit for the court's approval and 362 signature a release order on a uniform release form in all cases where a defendant may be 363 released from custody under conditions contained in an division report. Such conditions shall 364 become part of the conditions of release. A copy of the uniform release order shall be provided to 365 the defendant, the defendant's attorney of record, and the prosecutor.

366 Pretrial services shall have primary responsibility for reporting non-compliance by 367 criminal defendants with the terms and conditions of pretrial release specified in the uniform 368 release order entered under this section. Pretrial services shall monitor and supervise compliance 369 with pretrial release of supervised persons before trial and promptly submit reports to the court, 370 defendant, the defendant's attorney of record and prosecuting officer whenever: (i) apparent 371 violations of other conditions imposed by the court under the uniform release order have 372 occurred; or (ii) modification of the uniform release order and conditions thereof are deemed in 373 the best interests of either the accused or the community.

374 Section 59B. (a) Pretrial services shall collect data and maintain records of individuals 375 processed by pretrial services.

376 (b) Pretrial services shall submit quarterly reports to the office of probation, the chief 377 justice of the trial court, the court administrator and the supreme judicial court including but not 378 limited to: analysis on demographics of the pretrial population including age, race and sex; 379 number of persons detained before trial; appearance rates; length of detentions; default rates; 380 conditions imposed upon release; caseload of the pretrial services division; length of supervision; 381 and any other analytical data the division deems appropriate; provided, that any data included in 382 the report is presented only in aggregated form and no individual can be identified by data 383 included in the report.

384 (c) Information and records maintained by pretrial services that have not been disclosed 385 in open court during a trial court proceeding shall not be released by pretrial services to any 386 individual or organization, other than any employee of the office of probation or the courts, 387 without the express permission of the interviewed or supervised person at or near the time the 388 information is to be released. An individual shall have access to all information and records 389 about himself or herself maintained by or collected by pretrial services. Nothing in this section 390 shall prevent pretrial services from making its data available for research purposes to qualified 391 personnel, provided that no records or other information shall be made available in which 392 individuals interviewed or supervised are identified or from which their identities are 393 ascertainable. Records created by pretrial services shall not be part of an individual's criminal 394 offender record information. The information obtained and recorded shall not be regarded as 395 public records and shall not be open for public inspection but aggregate data shall be accessible 396 to the justices, the departments of probation, and youth services, the Massachusetts sentencing 397 commission, and to such local and state governments as the division may determine. Upon 398 payment of a fee as established by the chief justice of the trial court or the court administrator for 399 each search, such aggregate data shall be accessible to such departments of the federal 400 government and to such educational and charitable corporations and institutions as the division 401 may determine.

402 Section 59C. (a) Pretrial services shall develop informational materials and produce 403 training curriculum for staff regarding the functions of pretrial services. The training shall 404 include information on risk assessment tools, risk assessment scores, recommended supervision 405 levels and conditions of release, the difference between probationers and pretrial defendants and 406 their different needs, data collection consistent with best practices, trauma informed pretrial 407 services, and any other information the trial court or pretrial services division deem appropriate.
408 No employee of pretrial services shall determine a risk assessment score, oversee a released 409 defendant or make release recommendations to the court before participating in the mandatory 410 training.

411 (b) The trial court, in coordination with pretrial services, shall develop curriculum and 412 make training opportunities available on a rolling basis to all judicial officers eligible to make 413 bail decisions. Training shall include information on the risk assessment tools, risk assessment 414 scores and recommended supervision levels, conditions of release, and any other information the 415 trial court or pretrial services division deem appropriate. No bail commissioner shall be eligible

416 to make a bail decision after the implementation of the risk assessment tool, before participating 417 in a training offered under this section.
