The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the One Hundred and Ninety-First General Court (2019-2020)

An Act relative to emergency hazard health benefits for essential employees.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to forthwith provide health hazard benefits to essential employees in response to COVID-19, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 (a) For the purposes of this act, the following words shall, unless the context clearly
2 requires otherwise, have the following meanings:-

3 “Essential employer”, an employer permitted to remain in operation as COVID-19
4 essential services pursuant to the governor’s March 23, 2020 emergency order or March 31, 2020
5 extension order.

6 “Essential employees”, individuals employed by essential employers that are unable to 7 perform the functions of their position from their residence.

8 (b) Notwithstanding any general or special law or rule or regulation to the contrary, any 9 essential employer that requires an essential employee to report to work to perform out-of-home

10 duties shall provide emergency health hazard benefits to each essential employee, regardless of 11 how long said employee has been employed by said employer. Such emergency health hazard
12 benefits shall include, but not be limited to, compensation equal to that said essential employee
13 would be entitled to under normal circumstances.

14 (c) Any essential employee that reports to work to perform out-of-home duties for an 15 essential employer at any point during the governor's March 10, 2020 emergency order, who 16 contracts, has symptoms of or otherwise becomes infected with the 2019 novel coronavirus, also 17 known as COVID-19, that results in a period of hospitalization, quarantine, or requires self-
18 quarantine measures as a result of being infected or coming into contact with someone who is 19 infected with the COVID-19, shall have their medical condition or incapacity to work presumed 20 to be work-related.

21 (d) In the event that an essential employee is incapacitated or unable to perform their 22 duties as a result of COVID-19 infection or exposure and requires hospitalization, quarantine or 23 self-quarantine such time shall be considered as on-duty time, and said employee shall: (i)
24 receive emergency health hazard benefits as provided for in subsection (b); and (ii) not be 25 required to use their sick time, earned time, earned sick leave, vacation time, personal time or 26 any other contractual time-off to cover said period of incapacitation or inability to perform
27 regular-duty work.
