(b) There shall be established and set upon the books of the commonwealth a separate fund to be known as the Health Equity Zone Trust Fund to be expended, without further appropriation, by the department of public health. The fund shall consist of revenues collected by the commonwealth including: (1) any revenue from appropriations or other monies authorized by the general court and specifically designated to be credited to the fund; (2) any fines and penalties allocated to the fund under the General Laws; (3) any funds from public and private sources such as gifts, grants and donations to further community-based prevention activities; (4) any interest earned on such revenues; and (5) any funds provided from other sources.

This requires individual health care professionals and health care organizations to acknowledge and address their own biases, attitudes, assumptions, stereotypes, prejudices, structures, and characteristics that may affect the quality of care provided. In doing so, cultural safety encompasses a critical consciousness where health care professionals and health care organizations engage in ongoing self-reflection and self-awareness and hold themselves accountable for providing culturally safe care, as defined by the patient and their communities, and as measured through progress towards achieving health equity. Cultural safety requires health care professionals and their associated health care organizations to influence health care to reduce bias and achieve equity within the workforce and working environment.

"Structural competency", a shift in medical education away from pedagogic approaches to stigma and inequalities that emphasize cross-cultural understandings of individual patients, toward attention to forces that influence health outcomes at levels above individual interactions. Structural competency reviews existing structural approaches to stigma and health inequities developed outside of medicine and proposes changes to United States medical education that will infuse clinical training with a structural focus.

(b) By January 1, 2026, the board shall adopt rules requiring a licensee to complete health equity continuing education training at least once every four years.

(c) Health equity continuing education courses may be taken in addition to or, if the board determines the course fulfills existing continuing education requirements, in place of other continuing education requirements imposed by the board.

The secretary and board shall consult with patients and communities with lived experiences of health inequities or racism in the health care system and relevant professional organizations when developing the information and must make this information available by July 1, 2025. The information should include a course option that is free of charge to licensees.

(2) By January 1, 2026, the department, in consultation with the board, shall adopt model rules establishing the minimum standards for continuing education programs meeting the requirements of this section. The department shall consult with patients and communities with lived experience of health inequities or racism in the health care system, relevant professional organizations, and the board in the development of these rules.

(3) The minimum standards must include instruction on skills to address the structural factors, such as bias, racism, and poverty, that manifest as health inequities. These skills include individual-level and system-level intervention, and self-reflection to assess how the licensee's social position can influence their relationship with patients and their communities. These skills enable a health care professional to care effectively for patients from diverse cultures, groups, and communities, varying in race, ethnicity, gender identity, sexuality, religion, age, ability, socioeconomic status, and other categories of identity. The courses must assess the licensee's ability to apply health equity concepts into practice. Course topics may include, but are not limited to: (A) strategies for recognizing patterns of health care disparities on an individual, institutional, and structural level and eliminating factors that influence them; (B) intercultural communication skills training, including how to work effectively with an interpreter and how communication styles differ across cultures; (C) implicit bias training to identify strategies to reduce bias during assessment and diagnosis; (D) methods for addressing the emotional well-being of children and youth of diverse backgrounds; (E) ensuring equity and antiracism in care delivery pertaining to medical developments and emerging therapies; (F) structural competency training addressing five core competencies, which are: (i) recognizing the structures that shape clinical interactions; (ii) developing an extra clinical language of structure; (iii) rearticulating cultural formulations in structural terms; (iv) observing and imagining structural interventions; and (v) developing structural humility; and (G) cultural safety training.

(e) The board may adopt rules to implement and administer this section, including rules to establish a process to determine if a continuing education course meets the health equity continuing education requirement established in this section.
