The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the One Hundred and Ninety-Third General Court
(2023-2024)

An Act relative to preserving fertility.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 SECTION 1. Chapter 32A of the General Laws, as appearing in the 2020 Official
2 Edition, is hereby amended by inserting after section 17Q the following section:-

3 Section 17R. (a) Any coverage offered by the commission to an active or retired 4 employee of the commonwealth insured under the group insurance commission shall provide, to 5 the same extent that benefits are provided for other pregnancy-related procedures, coverage for
6 standard fertility preservation services (b) when the enrollee has a diagnosed medical or genetic
7 condition that may directly or indirectly cause (c) impairment of fertility by affecting
8 reproductive organs or processes. Said coverage will include the coverage for procurement,
9 cryopreservation, and storage of gametes, embryos or other reproductive tissue.

10 (b) For the purposes of this section, “standard fertility preservation services” means
11 procedures or treatment to preserve fertility as recommended by a board-certified obstetrician
12 gynecologist, reproductive endocrinologist, or other physician, and this recommendation is made
13 in accordance with current medical practices and professional guidelines published by the
14 American Society for Reproductive Medicine, the American Society of Clinical Oncology, or 15 other reputable professional organizations.

16 (c) For the purposes of this section, “may directly or indirectly cause” means that the
17 disease itself, or the necessary treatment, has a likely side effect of infertility as established by
18 the American Society for Reproductive Medicine, the American Society of Clinical Oncology, or 19 other reputable professional organizations.

20 SECTION 2. Chapter 175 is hereby amended by inserting after section 47KK the 21 following section:-

22 Section 47LL. (a) Any policy of accident and sickness insurance as described in section 23 108 that provides hospital expense and surgical expense insurance and that is delivered, issued or 24 subsequently renewed by agreement between the insurer and policyholder in the commonwealth;
25 any blanket or general policy of insurance described in subdivision (A), (C) or (D) of section 110
26 that provides hospital expense and surgical expense insurance and that is delivered, issued or 27 subsequently renewed by agreement between the insurer and the policyholder, within or without 28 the commonwealth; or any employees’ health and welfare fund that provides hospital expense 29 and surgical expense benefits and that is delivered, issued or renewed to any person or group of 30 persons in the commonwealth, shall provide to a commonwealth resident covered by the policy,
31 to the same extent that benefits are provided for other pregnancy-related procedures, coverage

32 for standard fertility preservation services (b) when the enrollee has a diagnosed medical or 33 genetic condition that may directly or indirectly cause (c) impairment of fertility by affecting 34 reproductive organs or processes. Said coverage will include the coverage for procurement,
35 cryopreservation, and storage of gametes, embryos or other reproductive tissue.

36 (b) For the purposes of this section, “standard fertility preservation services” means
37 procedures or treatment to preserve fertility as recommended by a board-certified obstetrician
38 gynecologist, reproductive endocrinologist, or other physician, and this recommendation is made
39 in accordance with current medical practices and professional guidelines published by the
41 other reputable professional organizations.

42 (c) For the purposes of this section, “may directly or indirectly cause” means that the
43 disease itself, or the necessary treatment, has a likely side effect of infertility as established by
44 the American Society for Reproductive Medicine, the American Society of Clinical Oncology, or 45 other reputable professional organizations.

46 SECTION 3. Chapter 176A is hereby amended by inserting after section 8MM the 47 following section:-

48 Section 8NN. (a) Any contract between a subscriber and the corporation under an 49 individual or group hospital service plan which is delivered, issued or renewed within the 50 commonwealth shall provide, to the same extent that benefits are provided for other pregnancy-51 related procedures, coverage for standard fertility preservation services (b) when the enrollee has 52 a diagnosed medical or genetic condition that may directly or indirectly cause (c) impairment of

53 fertility by affecting reproductive organs or processes. Said coverage will include the coverage 54 for procurement, cryopreservation, and storage of gametes, embryos or other reproductive tissue.

55 (b) For the purposes of this section, “standard fertility preservation services” means
56 procedures or treatment to preserve fertility as recommended by a board-certified obstetrician
57 gynecologist, reproductive endocrinologist, or other physician, and this recommendation is made
58 in accordance with current medical practices and professional guidelines published by the 59 American Society for Reproductive Medicine, the American Society of Clinical Oncology, or
60 other reputable professional organizations.

61 (c) For the purposes of this section, “may directly or indirectly cause” means that the
62 disease itself, or the necessary treatment, has a likely side effect of infertility as established by
63 the American Society for Reproductive Medicine, the American Society of Clinical Oncology, or 64 other reputable professional organizations.

65 SECTION 4. Chapter 176B is hereby amended by inserting after section 4MM the 66 following section:-

67 Section 4NN. (a) Any subscription certificate under an individual or group medical 68 service agreement delivered, issued or renewed within the commonwealth shall provide, to the 69 same extent that benefits are provided for other pregnancy-related procedures, coverage for 70 standard fertility preservation services (b) when the enrollee has a diagnosed medical or genetic 71 condition that may directly or indirectly cause (c) impairment of fertility by affecting 72 reproductive organs or processes. Said coverage will include the coverage for procurement,
73 cryopreservation, and storage of gametes, embryos or other reproductive tissue.

74 (b) For the purposes of this section, “standard fertility preservation services” means
75 procedures or treatment to preserve fertility as recommended by a board-certified obstetrician
76 gynecologist, reproductive endocrinologist, or other physician, and this recommendation is made
77 in accordance with current medical practices and professional guidelines published by the
78 American Society for Reproductive Medicine, the American Society of Clinical Oncology, or 79 other reputable professional organizations.

80 (c) For the purposes of this section, “may directly or indirectly cause” means that the
81 disease itself, or the necessary treatment, has a likely side effect of infertility as established by
82 the American Society for Reproductive Medicine, the American Society of Clinical Oncology, or 83 other reputable professional organizations.

84 SECTION 5. Chapter 176G is hereby amended by inserting after section 4EE the 85 following section:-

86 Section 4FF. (a) Any individual or group health maintenance contract shall provide, to 87 the same extent that benefits are provided for other pregnancy-related procedures, coverage for 88 standard fertility preservation services (b) when the enrollee has a diagnosed medical or genetic
89 condition that may directly or indirectly cause (c) impairment of fertility by affecting 90 reproductive organs or processes. Said coverage will include the coverage for procurement,
91 cryopreservation, and storage of gametes, embryos or other reproductive tissue.

92 (b) For the purposes of this section, “standard fertility preservation services” means
93 procedures or treatment to preserve fertility as recommended by a board-certified obstetrician
94 gynecologist, reproductive endocrinologist, or other physician, and this recommendation is made

97 other reputable professional organizations.

98 (c) For the purposes of this section, “may directly or indirectly cause” means that the
99 disease itself, or the necessary treatment, has a likely side effect of infertility as established by
100 the American Society for Reproductive Medicine, the American Society of Clinical Oncology, or 101 other reputable professional organizations.

102 SECTION 6. Chapter 176I is hereby amended by adding the following section:-

103 Section 13. (a) An organization entering into a preferred provider contract that provides 104 pregnancy-related benefits shall provide coverage, to the same extent that benefits are provided 105 for other pregnancy-related procedures, coverage for standard fertility preservation services (b)
106 when the enrollee has a diagnosed medical or genetic condition that may directly or indirectly
107 cause (c) impairment of fertility by affecting reproductive organs or processes. Said coverage 108 will include the coverage for procurement, cryopreservation, and storage of gametes, embryos or 109 other reproductive tissue.

110 (b) For the purposes of this section, “standard fertility preservation services” means
111 procedures or treatment to preserve fertility as recommended by a board-certified obstetrician
112 gynecologist, reproductive endocrinologist, or other physician, and this recommendation is made
113 in accordance with current medical practices and professional guidelines published by the 114 American Society for Reproductive Medicine, the American Society of Clinical Oncology, or 115 other reputable professional organizations.

116 (c) For the purposes of this section, “may directly or indirectly cause” means that the
117 disease itself, or the necessary treatment, has a likely side effect of infertility as established by

118 the American Society for Reproductive Medicine, the American Society of Clinical Oncology, or 119 other reputable professional organizations.
