An Act allowing for a tax credit for rent paid on the personal residence of the taxpayer.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 Section 3 of chapter 62 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out subsection
2 B(a)(9) and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

3 In the case of an individual who pays rent for his principal place of residence in excess of 4 30 percent of the taxpayer’s gross income for such taxable year and such residence is located in 5 the commonwealth, an amount equal to the applicable percentage of such excess as follows:

6 (i) 100% for an individual whose gross income is not over $25,000, (ii) 75% for an 7 individual whose gross income is over $25,000, but not over $50,000, (iii) 50% for an individual 8 whose gross income is over $50,000, but not over $75,000, (iv) 25% for an individual whose 9 gross income is over $75,000, but not over $100,000, or (v) a deduction not to exceed $3,000 for 10 a single person, for a person that qualifies as a head of household under section two (b) of the 11 Code, or for a husband and wife that together make over $100,000 in gross income.

12           The term “rent” shall include any amount paid for utilities of a type taken into account for 13 purposes of determining the standard utility allowance, but for purposes of determining the 14 amount of credit allowed under this subsection rent shall be capped at 125% of the fair market 15 rent (including the standard utility allowance) as determined by the United States Department of 16 Housing and Urban Development.

17           SECTION 2. This act shall take effect for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 18 2024.
