SENATE No. 1659

By Mr. Cronin, a petition (accompanied by bill, Senate, No. 1659) of John J. Cronin for legislation to allow emergency service providers performing crisis intervention services to keep information confidential from a third party. Public Safety and Homeland Security.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the One Hundred and Ninety-Fourth General Court (2025-2026)

An Act relative to crisis intervention services for emergency service providers; confidentiality of information.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 Section 200 of chapter 233 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 2018 Official 2 Edition, is hereby amended by striking out Section 200, and inserting in place thereof the 3 following section:-

4 Section 1. Section 200. (a) As used in this section, the following words shall, unless the 5 context clearly requires otherwise, have the following meanings:-

6 "Certified emergency service provider", an emergency service provider certified by the 7 Massachusetts Peer Support Network or International Critical Incident Stress Foundation, Inc.

8 "Confidential Information", is information transmitted in confidence by and between an 9 emergency service provider and a certified emergency service provider or licensed mental health 10 professional during the course of a critical incident stress management session by a means which 11 does not disclose the information to a person other than a person or persons participating in the 12 critical incident stress management session with the emergency service provider. The term 13 includes all information received by the certified emergency service provider or licensed mental 14 health professional during the critical incident stress management session.

15 "Crisis intervention", immediate short-term psychological care provided by a certified 16 emergency service provider providing critical incident stress management to an emergency 17 service provider after said emergency service provider's response to a critical incident.

18 "Crisis intervention services", consultation, counseling, debriefing, defusing, intervention 19 services, prevention or referral.

20 "Critical incident", an event resulting in psychological stress or trauma to an emergency 21 service provider as a result of said emergency service provider's response to the incident.

22 "Critical incident stress management", a program designed to assist an emergency service
23 provider in coping with the psychological stress or trauma resulting from said emergency service 24 providers response to a critical incident.

25 "Emergency service provider", an active or retired law enforcement officer, police officer, 26 state police trooper, sheriff or deputy sheriffs, firefighter, or emergency medical personnel.

27 "Secretary", the secretary of the executive office of public safety and homeland security.

28 (b) Information provided by an emergency service provider to a certified emergency 29 service provider or licensed mental health professional as part of crisis intervention services 30 provided by the certified emergency service provider or licensed mental health professional to 31 the emergency service provider either individually or as part of a group shall be confidential and 32 shall not be disclosed to a third party, except as provided by subsection (e).

33 (c) An emergency service provider has a privilege to refuse to disclose, and to prevent 34 others from disclosing, confidential communications made during a critical incident stress 35 management session for the purpose of lessening the impact of an event, accelerating their own 36 normal coping abilities, and helping to prevent the development of post traumatic stress disorder, 37 as follows:

38 (1) between the emergency service provider and the certified emergency service provider
39 or licensed mental health professional;

40 (2) between other emergency service providers participating in a group critical incident 41 stress management session and the certified emergency service provider or licensed mental 42 health professional.

43 (d) The privilege may be claimed by the emergency service provider, the emergency 44 service provider's guardian or conservator, or the personal representative of a deceased 45 emergency service provider as the case may be at the time the privilege is claimed.

46 (e) Subsection (b) shall not apply to information provided by an emergency service 47 provider to a certified emergency service provider or licensed mental health professional as part 48 of crisis intervention services provided by the certified emergency service provider or licensed 49 mental health professional to the emergency service provider if:

50 (i) the certified emergency service provider or licensed mental health professional
51 providing crisis intervention services has reasonable cause to believe that the emergency service
52 provider receiving the crisis intervention services is in need of treatment in a hospital for mental 53 or emotional illness or that there is a threat of imminently dangerous activity by the emergency

54 service provider receiving the crisis intervention services against himself or herself or another 55 person;

56 (ii) the certified emergency service provider or licensed mental health professional 57 providing crisis intervention services has reasonable cause to believe that the emergency service
58 provider receiving the crisis intervention services has engaged in conduct required to be reported
59 pursuant to section 51A of chapter 119;

60 (iii) the certified emergency service provider or licensed mental health professional 61 providing crisis intervention services has reasonable cause to believe that the emergency service
62 provider receiving the crisis intervention services has engaged in conduct in violation of any 63 federal or state law;

64 (iv) the certified emergency service provider or licensed mental health professional
65 providing crisis intervention services has reasonable cause to believe that the emergency service
66 provider receiving the crisis intervention services has admitted to criminal conduct;

67 (v) the certified emergency service provider or licensed mental health professional 68 providing crisis intervention services has reasonable cause to believe that the emergency service
69 provider receiving the crisis intervention services has admitted to conduct that constitutes a 70 violation of the laws that are normally enforced by the entity for which the emergency service
71 provider receiving the crisis intervention services is employed;

72 (vi) the certified emergency service provider or licensed mental health professional 73 providing crisis intervention services was an initial emergency service responder, a witness, or a 74 party to the critical incident that prompted an emergency service provider to engage in crises 75 intervention services; or

76 (vii) the emergency service provider receiving the crisis intervention services waives
77 confidentiality and gives express consent for the certified emergency service provider or licensed 78 mental health professional to testify or the emergency service provider receiving the crisis
79 intervention services otherwise divulges information related to such services to any third party.

80 (d) An emergency service provider who provides crisis intervention services to 81 emergency service providers pursuant to this section shall: (i) be certified by the Massachusetts
82 Peer Support Network or International Critical Incident Stress Foundation, Inc.; (ii) provide 83 documentation of such certification to their employer; and (iii) annually provide their employer 84 with proof of such certification.

85 An entity employing a certified emergency service provider shall maintain the 86 documentation provided by the employee under this subsection of the employee's certification by 87 the Massachusetts Peer Support Network or the International Critical Incident Stress Foundation, 88 Inc. Such documentation shall be made available at the request of the secretary.

89 (e) If an entity employing a certified emergency service provider determines that an 90 employee has violated this section, the entity shall promptly notify in writing the Massachusetts
91 Peer Support Network and or the International Critical Incident Stress Foundation, Inc. of the 92 violation. An employee that violates this section shall be considered decertified and shall not be 93 eligible to provide crisis intervention services as a certified emergency service provider for a 94 period of 5 years.
