Adjourn In Memory of John "Jack" Kirrane

The Senator from Middlesex and Norfolk, Ms. Creem moved that when the Senate adjourns today, it adjourn in memory of Brookline, Massachusetts resident John "Jack" Kirrane, who died at the age of 88 on September 25, 2016.

A native of Brookline, Jack was best known as being the captain for the "Forgotten Miracle", the 1960 United States Olympic hockey team that won the gold medal.

Mr. Kirrane grew up in Brookline and, with his two brothers, began playing hockey as a child on a neighbor's pond. Jack soon became one of the area's best hockey players. In 1948, just one year out of Brookline High School, Mr. Kirrane was the US Olympic Team's youngest player.

In 1950, Mr. Kirrane married his love, Patricia Rose, who died in 2010.

Kirrane was unable to play in the 1952 Olympics because he was serving in the Army. When he returned home from the Army, he became a firefighter in Brookline where he proudly served for 38 years.

Known for his soft-spoken and selfless manner, Jack's love for the game of hockey continued and in 1960, the 31-year-old defenseman was named captain of the US Hockey Team. At the 1960 games in Squaw Valley, California, Mr. Kirrane led the underdog Americans to upset Canada, 2-1, then the Soviet Union, 3-2. His team became the first U.S. Team to ever beat the Soviets, and subsequently, Czechoslovakia, 9-4, winning the Olympic gold medal.

With this accomplishment, Mr. Kirrane proudly received a congratulatory telegram from John F. Kennedy, also a Brookline native, who was then a U.S. Senator.

In 1987 Kirrane was inducted into the United States Hockey Hall of Fame and, in 2010 the rink at Larz Anderson Park in Brookline was named after Mr. Kirrane.

Mr. Kirrane will be remembered by most as an all-time local hockey great, but those close to him will also remember him as a family man who enjoyed the simple things in life and his love of family.

John "Jack" Kirrane will be deeply missed by his son, Jack and his daughters, Susan Fields and Kristin Greymont, both of Brookline; his brothers William and Edward, his four grandchildren; five great-grandchildren and countless hockey fans and the Brookline community.

Accordingly, as a mark of respect in memory of John "Jack" Kirrane, at twenty-five minutes past eleven o'clock A.M., on motion of Mr. Tarr, the Senate adjourned to meet again on Tuesday next at eleven o'clock A.M.
