Dear Chairs Rodrigues and Michlewitz,

Enclosed is the April Resettlement Agency Report, submitted in compliance with item 4003-0123 of chapter 77 of the acts of 2023. That act, which became law in December of 2023, appropriated $10 million for resettlement agencies (RAs) that resettle and support refugees and immigrants under contract with the U.S. State Department. The money is authorized to be expended by the RAs to “provide services to refugees and other displaced persons eligible for [RA] services” and “to prevent families from entering the emergency shelter system.”

The Office of Refugees and Immigrants (ORI) entered into contracts with eight resettlement agencies in early March, and the Administration announced the launch of the new partnership on March 7. This monthly report, the first one submitted pursuant to the reporting requirements in chapter 177, reflects activity through April 30, 2024.

I hope you find this document useful and informative. Please feel free to contact Susan Church, Chief Operating Officer at ORI if you have any questions about the report.

Respectfully,

Cristina Aguilera, Executive Director

Resettlement Agency Report

Chapter 77 of the acts of 2023, the final supplemental appropriations act for the state's fiscal year 2023, appropriated $10 million in item 4003-0123 for resettlement agencies (RAs) that resettle and support refugees and immigrants under contract with the U.S. State Department. The money is authorized to be expended by the RAs to "provide services to refugees and other displaced persons eligible for [RA] services" and "to prevent families from entering the emergency shelter system."

The $10 million in c. 77 supplemented $500,000 appropriated in the same item in the fiscal year 2024 budget. This $10.5 million, which goes to the same entities for the same purposes, is addressed in combination in this report.

Chapter 77 requires that monthly reports to the House and Senate Committees on Ways and Means detail the following information:

(i) a list of recipients of such funds; (ii) the amounts distributed to each recipient; (iii) the number of immigrants and refugees served by each recipient, delineated by municipality; (iv) a breakdown of the number of immigrants and refugees served by each recipient, delineated by individuals: (a) currently residing in the emergency housing assistance program under section 30 of chapter 23B of the General Laws; (b) who entered said program as migrants, refugees or asylum seekers as a result of the ongoing humanitarian crisis; and (c) who are currently on the waitlist for placement into said program; (v) a breakdown of the number of immigrants and refugees served by each recipient who have been resettled into long term housing other than the emergency shelter system; (vi) a breakdown of the number of immigrants and refugees served by each recipient who are currently awaiting federal work authorization versus the number of said immigrants and refugees who have had their federal work authorization approved; and (vii) a list of all municipalities served by each recipient of such funds

The status of these items is as follows:

(i) a list of recipients of such funds; (ii) the amounts distributed to each recipient;

Eight RAs receive funds through this item, covering eight geographic regions of the state. ORI worked with the RAs to assess the number of refugees they serve, and to develop expectations about the numbers of EA shelter families they can each commit to resettling by the end of calendar year 2024.

Of the $10.5 million in authorized spending, $2.5 million will be distributed to support each recipients' work with their identified caseload of refugees as of January of 2024, when the contracts were negotiated. These funds are allocated in proportion to the January caseload.

The remaining $8.0 million is committed based on RA's estimates of the numbers of families they can rehouse by December 2024.

See Attachment 1 for more detail.

(iii) the number of immigrants and refugees served by each recipient, delineated by municipality;

See Attachment 1 for a snapshot estimate of immigrants and refugees served by recipient.

The Administration is developing Interim Emergency Data Manager (IEDM) to track this data on an ongoing basis. IEDM is expected to go live within the next few months for this data.

(iv) a breakdown of the number of immigrants and refugees served by each recipient, delineated by individuals: (a) currently residing in the emergency housing assistance program under section 30 of chapter 23B of the General Laws; (b) who entered said program as migrants, refugees or asylum seekers as a result of the ongoing humanitarian crisis; and (c) who are currently on the waitlist for placement into said program;

We anticipate being able to give a detailed response to this question once IEDM is rolled out.

(v) a breakdown of the number of immigrants and refugees served by each recipient who have been resettled into long term housing other than the emergency shelter system;

We anticipate being able to give a detailed response to this question once IEDM is rolled out.

(vi) a breakdown of the number of immigrants and refugees served by each recipient who are currently awaiting federal work authorization versus the number of said immigrants and refugees who have had their federal work authorization approved; and

We anticipate being able to give a detailed response to this question once IEDM is rolled out.

(vii) a list of all municipalities served by each recipient of such funds

See attachment 2 for a list of municipalities served by each RA.
