Hello,

I'm not a scientist so I have no expertise to share but I am an observer of cultural issues vis-à-vis science. This proposal reminds me of a film called "The Minority Report". It's a futuristic/ dystopian story about a society that controls crime by predicting when it will occur and preventing future acts. One of the tools was facial and eye pupil recognition, which wasn't always accurate and I was subject to alterations.

How will we heal from progress.
